VICTORIA, B. C., MONDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1911

NO. 78

ITALIAN CENSORSHIP KEEPS WORLD IN DARK

Rumors Reaching London Conflict as to What Both Sides Are Doing—The Porte is Lacking in Funds

The outstanding feature of the Turkish-Italian war news today is the attempted mediation of Germany, the success of which appears more probable in the light of the statement made at the German foreign office today that a report that the German ambassador at Constantinople had presented Italian proposals for peace was "premature," indicating that such proposals were expected.

The cable communication with Tripoli remains cut-off, but the city had not been bombed up to Saturday midnight, according to refugees and appears to confirm the report from Italy that the bombardment was delayed pending peace proposals.

On the other hand, a dispatch from Constantinople says that Pasha, former Turkish minister to Serbia, had been named commander of the troops mobilizing to defend the coast of the Adriatic.

A dispatch from the island of Corfu, off the Albanian coast, says two Turkish torpedo boats were sunk and a third captured off Gumenizza by the Italian patroling fleet. A semi-official statement from Athens says Greece has been notified by Constantinople that the Turkish military movements on the frontier are not directed against Greece.

The impression prevails that the hostilities will be of brief duration. It is believed that Turkey, finding herself unable to transport resources to Tripoli, will accept the mediation of Germany.

London, Oct. 2.—The strict Italian censorship is keeping the world in the dark as to the progress of events of the Mediterranean.

From Italy itself, Tripoli, Turkey and the sea where the Italian navy is operating, conflicting reports continue to come in.

One cablegram announced definitely that Tripoli had been bombed and occupied. Another says that no attack on the city had been made.

Only one thing is certain and that is that the Italians had not attacked the town up to midnight Saturday, or had they done so, their guns would have been heard on the steamer Castlegarden which left Tripoli shortly before that hour and arrived at Malta this morning.

The reports as to the situation at Preveza are equally conflicting. Turkish officials here confirm the news dispatches saying the forts had been destroyed and 1,500 troops landed; while Italy gives an emphatic denial of the report, saying the Italian government had no intention of resorting to acts against the territorial status of Turkey in Europe.

It is believed that what actually happened was that the Turkish vessels in the vicinity were scattered and the forts destroyed to prevent raids on the Italian coast shipping. Probably this was sufficient for the population as one cable says that the Turkish operators deserted the place as soon as the bombardment was begun.

Europe is greatly relieved at the receipt of news that Turkey has assured Greece that she has no intention of attacking her as had been reported. The reports of the Italian blockade of the Tripoli coast from Tunis to Egypt and her scouring of the seas is shown in the arrival of two captured Turkish transports at Taranto and Brindisi respectively.

The Tripoli cable is soiled so that it is impossible for the outside world to know what is going on there. The Ottoman government clearly is not in a hurry and the most significant news of the day is the decision of the Turkish council again to appeal to the Powers and in the meantime to suspend offensive measures. Up to last night this note of appeal had not reached the British government and there is nothing to indicate that the attitude of the Powers has undergone any change.

The Daily Telegraph's Rome correspondent says that Germany and Austria already have made unofficial representations to Italy of their displeasure at her precedence and have intimated that if those representations are ignored they will be followed in another shape by "humiliation to Italy."

According to information from diplomatic circles, the landing of the Italians in Preveza is resented by Austria and Germany and had much to do with their reported change of attitude towards Italy.

Turkey's internal politics probably accounts in a large measure for hesitating in taking the offensive. Said Pasha, the new grand vizier, continues his efforts to form a coalition ministry, but finds success extremely difficult.

Bombardment of Preveza.

Constantinople, Oct. 2.—It is officially confirmed that the Italian squadron has bombarded Preveza but the landing of Italian forces there is denied.

It is announced from Janina that two Italian warships on Saturday bombarded the port of Reschade and the torpedo boats lying in that harbor, one of which was damaged and landed its crew.

The Italian ships entered the port and shelled the town, several houses being struck.

Later they entered Porto Muste, taking the captain of the port and three boat men prisoners.

The Porte has notified the Powers of the suspension of the lighthouse service in the Red Sea, the Mediterranean Sea, the Dardanelles, the Aegean Sea and the Adriatic Sea. Italian workmen in the government factories have been dismissed. Italians employed in railroad construction in Asia Minor are leaving the country. A meeting of the cabinet was held last night and a circular was prepared which was telegraphed to all the Ottoman embassies. The circular was:

"We answered the Italian ultimatum in a conciliatory tone, implying a peaceful solution. You know under what conditions Italy declared war and how hostilities began, contrary to the rules of international law.

"By this act, we are at liberty to take all measures necessitated by a state of war, on the part of military operations, strictly speaking. But while reserving for herself this right, Turkey holds the conviction that a state of war can be averted. Thus she addresses herself to the Powers and proposes recourse to arms.

"It is rumored that the Ottoman government is going contrary to the legitimate sentiments of the Turkish people and hopes that the Powers will give a favorable ear to the request.

Turks Have Spirit But No Funds.
London, Oct. 2.—The Daily Chronicle's Constantinople correspondent says:

"News of both disaster and victory reached the capital to-day. The fighting spirit of the Turks is rising to a marvellous height. A wireless message to the admiralty says that two Italian cruisers have been sunk off an unnamed point in the archipelago. It is presumed the torpedo boats had a hand in this affair.

"It is rumored that Preveza, in European Turkey, has been taken by the Italians and several Turkish ships without coal have been seized. Close secrecy is observed as to the movements of the Turkish warships and the newspapers are forbidden to publish any news.

"Much is hoped for from intervention by the Powers, but it is reported that the sultan's personal appeal to the King of England has elicited a reply to the effect that it is too late for the Powers to take any such political action as Turkey desires.

"Turkey's chronic trouble, the lack of money, has become acute. She is facing the war with a ridiculously small sum in the treasury. The Ottoman public debt institution has been asked to provide $50,000,000, but it has informed the government that there is no more money available. Therefore the nation is going to war with about $5,000,000.

German Mediation.
Constantinople, Oct. 2.—The German ambassador, Marschall von Bieberstein, to-day gave the sultan the German emperor's reply to his appeal for mediation. After expressing feelings of real friendship and veneration for the sultan, the emperor says that in the interests of humanity he had instructed the ambassador to make efforts like to intervention, but isolated German action, until supported by other powers, would have no effect.

In deference to the sultan's wishes, however, he would make another proposal for intervention and would submit a similar petition to the other powers.

Turkish Vessels Seized.
Rome, Oct. 2.—The Greek schooner Bessone, sailing under Turkish colors, has been seized at Bari, and two Turkish brigantines which at Palermo.

Taranto, Oct. 2.—A transport and yacht captured at Preveza have arrived here under escort. Ten Turkish officers and 150 soldiers aboard the transport have been disarmed and are held prisoners.

Japan and Russia Neutral.

Tokio, Oct. 2.—It is announced that Japan will issue a proclamation declaring her strict neutrality in the Italian-Turkish imbroglio.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 2.—The Russian declaration of neutrality is being drafted.

HURRICANE OFF CAPE BRETON.

Sydney, C. B., Oct. 2.—Nearly a dozen vessels are ashore at different points on the Cape Breton coast as the result of a hurricane which swept over this section yesterday. In this city, one person, a girl, was killed and another fatally injured by five wires.

The schooner Coronadean is ashore at Westmount, three coasting vessels are grounded in Sydney harbor, two others are stranded at Barrack Point, and the wrecking steamer Albert is ashore and badly damaged in the harbor.

NEW TRADING COMPANY.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—The Peace River Trading & Land Company, with a capital of $1,000,000, and headquarters at Edmonton, has been incorporated. The promoters are Montreal men.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—Customs receipts for the Dominion for the first six months of the fiscal year, just closed, have been $41,308,326, as compared with $35,559,641 during the first six months of last year, an increase of $5,748,784. For the month of September alone the collections amounted to $7,710,181, an increase of $1,252,241 over September last year.

SUPREME COURT SITTINGS.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—The Supreme Court will open on Tuesday. The list of appeals is made up of sixteen from the west, twelve from Ontario, thirteen from Quebec and two from the Maritime Provinces. Owing to the Dominion election the appeal in connection with the contestation of the Drummond and Athabasca by-election of last year has been dropped from the list.

FIRST VIOLENCE IN RAILWAY STRIKE

MAN ON WAY TO WORK SET ON BY PICKETS

Conflicting Stories Are Told as to the Number of Men Who Are Out

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 2.—Violence broke out today among the striking employees of the Illinois Central railroad shops at Bensenville, which resulted in a riot call being sent to the Kensington police station. John Chomaz, a carpenter, who declined to walk out with the other men, was assaulted by workmen pickets as he was going to work. He was struck on the head with a brick and immediately was surrounded by a crowd of nearly a hundred strikers. A private watchman employed by the Illinois Central attempted to interfere and was roughly handled and warned to let union pickets alone in the future. The union pickets fled when they saw the police come, and no arrests were made.

Two hundred strike-breakers were employed by the Illinois Central to keep the shops at Bensenville open. According to Illinois Central officials, they also declare that 100 strikers have quietly returned to work since Saturday. The statement was made that 300 of 1,000 of the shopmen employed at Bensenville are at work to-day, and that this number is being augmented hourly.

A score or more of pickets were on duty early to-day. They work industriously in their efforts to persuade non-union men to leave their posts, but with varying success. The union labor leaders to-day declared that no strike-breakers had been sent to the shops, and that none of their men had returned.

The crucial test of the strike of the shopmen on the Harriman lines is expected to come to-day.

Julius Kruttschnitt, vice-president and manager of maintenance and operation of the Union & Southern Pacific lines, expressed the opinion that less than 25 per cent of the shopmen had gone out. W. L. Park, vice-president and general manager of the Illinois Central, claimed that less than one-half of the 7,000 men on his line had obeyed the order.

J. A. Franklin, international president of the Brotherhood of United Carpenters, said that 2,000 men quit work on Saturday, and that their numbers would be increased during the day.

Quiet at Frisco.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 2.—There were very few men visible to-day about the shops of the Southern Pacific Company in this city, virtually all of the striking shopmen remaining away from the yards. There was no hint of disorder in the train service. At the railroad company's office no additional facts or figures were forthcoming to the statement issued yesterday by Gen. Manager Calvin, saying that 69 per cent of the shopmen of the company in the Far West refused to obey the strike call. Mr. Calvin also stated that a number of men had applied for work, but none of these were in evidence to-day about the San Francisco shops.

STEAMER SINKS WITH TWENTY MEN ON BOARD

Had Gone to the Assistance of Disabled Vessel and Collided With It

London, Oct. 2.—The British steamer Hatfield, from Huelva, Spain, for Rotterdam, was in collision to-day with the British steamer Glasgow, from Rotterdam for Dundee, and was sunk. All the members of the Hatfield's crew, numbering about 20 men, were drowned.

The Hatfield had gone to the assistance of the Glasgow, which had broken her steering gear and had signalled for assistance. The Glasgow was picked up by another steamer and towed into the harbor at Dover.

WHITNEY REFUSES SEAT IN CABINET

DEVOTES HIS SERVICES TO PEOPLE OF ONTARIO

Liberal Member for Battleford Announces Support of Borden

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—Parliament has been prorogued pro forma till Saturday, November 18 but this will not prevent the new government summoning the House for the despatch of business earlier.

Whitney Declines Place.
Toronto, Oct. 2.—On his return from Ottawa on Saturday Sir Jas. Whitney announced that he had declined a seat in the Dominion cabinet as he had decided to devote the remainder of his public life to the people of Ontario. He stated also that Mr. Borden would clear up certain matters long in dispute between the federal government and the provinces. An announcement as to the government's intentions regarding the provincial by-elections is expected to-morrow.

Constance Not a Candidate.
Port William, Oct. 2.—James Constance has declared that he will not be a candidate for the House of Commons at the deferred election to be held on October 22, and as there is no other candidate J. J. Carlick will be declared elected by acclamation on Thursday for Thunder Bay and Rainy River. In a letter to the press Mr. Constance says: "Owing to the change of government, I have decided to devote my time to the people of Ontario, and having regard to my condition of health, I do not feel disposed to accept nomination."

Mr. Constance will leave for the south, where he hopes to regain his strength. He has been very feeble since an attack on typhoid and his physician has ordered a long rest.

Liberal Member Flaps.
Saskatoon, Sask., Oct. 2.—A Champagne, M. P. defect for Battleford, will "flap" according to his statements in an interview here with the Capital. He said, when questioned as to a report to the effect of his supporting the government which was circulated some days ago, that he was elected to represent the people of Battleford and he intended to represent them, because Battleford was out for "all that was coming to it" and was entitled to all it could get, so it need not surprise anyone were he to go Conservative.

He said further that many Conservatives voted for him but had it been a straight party fight he would have had a hard fight; furthermore, that he came of an old family of Conservatives, his brother having sat as a Conservative member. He left little doubt as to his intention of leaving the Liberal party.

CANADIAN TRADE IS STILL GROWING

AUGUST FIGURES SHOW INCREASE OF 30 PER CENT

Trade and Revenue, Through Liberal Policy, Has Devel- oped as Never Before

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—The possibility of the reciprocity agreement coming into effect evidently had no bad effect on the Dominion's growth of business prosperity. During August Canada's trade increased by no less than $18,303,133, or nearly 30 per cent, as compared with August of last year. The total trade for the month was $41,499,654, of which $17,605,591 was in imports, a gain of $9,000,000.

In exports the principal gain was in agricultural products, which totalled $7,222,304, an increase of nearly $5,000,000 over the preceding August. For the first five months of the fiscal year trade has totalled $320,522,426, an increase of $34,705,645, or which $22,629,971 was in imports entered for consumption. Coin and bullion were imported during the five months to the value of $10,694,552, as compared with $2,359,965 for the corresponding five months of last year.

Customs revenue for the month just closed indicates that the rapid growth of imports is being maintained. The total customs receipts for the month were $7,710,181, an increase of $1,252,241 over September of last year. For the first half of the fiscal year the customs revenue has totalled $41,308,326, an increase of $5,748,784, or nearly $1,000,000 per month.

The new administration will take office with trade and revenue increasing at the most rapid rate in the history of Canada, and with the way paved for another huge surplus at the close of the fiscal year.

EIGHT CHILDREN PERISH.

Indiana, Pa., Oct. 2.—Eight children of Mr. and Mrs. William Dine of Hesh-bon, near here, ranging in age from 13 years to three months, were burned to death early yesterday when fire destroyed their home.

The parents left the children in their beds and went to the first floor, where they made an attempt to extinguish the fire. The blaze spread rapidly and they were unable to return to the rescue.

DENTIST FOUND DEAD.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 2.—With four bullet holes in his left breast, Dr. U. G. Kinnison, a dentist from Aberdeen, was found dead in his room in a hotel on First avenue yesterday afternoon. The police believe he committed suicide. The cause of the suicide is given as due to the fact that Kinnison's wife is said to have divorced him.

OCTOBER ASSIZES COMMENCE TO-DAY

TRUE BILL FOUND IN CASE FROM NANAIMO

Grand Jury, Consisting of Pro- minent Business Men, In- structed by Judge

The October assizes opened this morning before Mr. Justice Morrison, and after five indictments had been returned by the grand jury, the judge pronounced a true bill on the indictment of one Murner, who is charged with having committed rape. With a second count of seduction, at Nanaimo, the court adjourned until 2:15 p. m. because of the absence of counsel for the accused, who did not arrive in Victoria till the noon train to-day.

The grand jury consists of Harry P. Bullen, Stephen Jones, John Alexander Hinton, Bernard S. Helsternman, Arthur S. Gore, Lewis A. Finch, Roland H. Powell, William McCarter, Joseph D. Virtue, Theophilus Elford, and Walter Walker (foreman). Arthur C. Burdick, also called, was not present and the sheriff was instructed to send for him. Robert E. Brett, also called, answered by a telegraph from Toronto saying he could not reach Victoria in time.

Mr. Justice Morrison on opening the assize informed the grand jury men of their duties and handed them five indictments, the first against Murner. The second indictment was against a man named Marshall, who is alleged to have committed arson, in setting fire to a barn in a country district. The third indictment referred to by Mr. Justice Morrison was against a man named Sulon, charged with stealing stores from the steamer Cottage City. The other two indictments were against C. J. V. Spratt and William Houston, of the Victoria Machinery Depot, who are charged with having stolen navy yard stores in their possession.

No indictment was preferred against Frederick Butlock, who was sent for trial on a charge of attempted extortion from C. J. V. Spratt, president of the Victoria Machinery Depot, the case arising out of the evidence heard at the preliminary hearing against Spratt. It is understood, however, that the crown will prefer this indictment later.

Mr. Justice Morrison said he had not had time to make himself conversant with the allegations against Spratt and Houston, and while the case had achieved considerable notoriety he could not pretend to be acquainted with the facts. He instructed the jury to call what witnesses it needed and arrive at a conclusion as to whether a prima facie case had or had not been made out. The grand jury was told that a majority of seven of their number would have to decide for or against all true bills.

After being in retirement for less than five minutes the foreman returned into court with a true bill to the Murner indictment.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY DIES SUDDENLY IN NEW YORK

Had a Long and Honorable Career in the United States Navy

New York, Oct. 2.—Admiral Winfield Scott Schley dropped dead here.

Admiral Schley was born near Frederick, Maryland, October 9, 1839, passed through the naval academy at Annapolis and served throughout the civil war. He saw service in many parts of the world and in 1884 commanded the expedition into the Arctic regions which rescued Lieut. Greeley. He commanded the American fleet which on July 3, 1898, off Santiago, destroyed the Spanish fleet under Admiral Cervera. Later he was the centre of a warm controversy with Admiral Sampson as to the actual command on that occasion, but public sentiment in the United States appeared to be largely with him in the matter.

FLOODS WIPE OUT TWO PENNSYLVANIA TOWNS

Most Conservative Estimate of Dead is Two Hun- dred—Paper-making Industry is De- stroyed—Warning Neglected

Austin, Pa., Oct. 2.—With the arrival of a carload of coffins here to-day, the grimness of the tragedy which has practically obliterated this town, was impressed on the survivors and a considerable number of workers, who began anew their efforts to mine deeply into the hard hills of debris. Twenty victims had been placed in a temporary morgue. Plans for the funerals were being made to-day.

The most essential matter in hand here, aside from the persistent work of clearing away the more accessible ruins, is the completion of a mine deeply into the hard hills of debris. Twenty victims had been placed in a temporary morgue. Plans for the funerals were being made to-day.

There is little hope that any of the bodies remaining in the wreckage will be found intact. The entire aspect of the debris indicates that hundreds of thousands of javelin-like splinters and shreds of buildings were shot through and through the first accumulations of ruins by the debris hurled onward by the flood.

State sanitary engineers and chief officials of the state health department are co-operating in the measures for protection and relief. The aspect of Austin, Coatsville and the valley beyond to-day is as dreary as it is appalling.

MAN UNDER ARREST MAY BE BANK ROBBER

Boasted in Prince Rupert That Money Was From New Westminster

Prince Rupert, Oct. 2.—With his pockets full of money which he boasted to some of the habitués of the restricted district had been obtained out of the famous New Westminster bank robbery, a man who gave the name of Allick Johnson, was taken into custody here to-day. Johnson is being held on a technical charge of "frequenting" until the police find out more about him.

He is an American about 35 years old, and says he came here from Montana a week ago. At the time of his arrest he had over $900 in his possession in American bills. He is also reported to have deposited $10,000 in cash in two local banks since his arrival.

All his stories are very contradictory. He is registered at the hotel as Alex. Johnson, of Winnipeg, but has been in the vicinity around town as "Bill Wheeler." He has spent about $1,000 in wine and follies during the past week. His story is that he got the money by selling a ranch in Montana. He is supposed to be well known in San Francisco.

STEAMER GETS OFF.

Boulogne, Oct. 2.—The Hamburg-American steamer Koenig Frederick Auguste, which broke her moorings and went aground in the harbor yesterday, was towed off this morning, none the worse for her experience.

AVIATOR IS HURT.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 2.—Caught in a sudden gust of wind, C. P. Rodgers' aeroplane dived to earth just after he had started from this city toward Chicago to-day. The machine was wrecked and Rodgers painfully bruised.

THEATRE MUSICIANS STRIKE.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 2.—Union musicians employed at six or seven theatres in this city are out to-day, having struck for higher wages. The theatre managers say their places have been filled by non-union men.

IMMIGRATION RETURNS.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—Immigration for the first five months fiscal year totalled 212,854, an increase of eighteen per cent compared with last year. The immigration from the U. S. totalled 71,833. August immigration totalled 30,115.

RAILWAYS GET INJUNCTION.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 2.—A temporary injunction, sweeping in its provisions and applying to the entire state of Mississippi, was issued here to-day by Federal Judge Miles, against all the members of all the unions on strike on the Illinois road.

The towns are practically desolate. The valley and the sides of the hills, in which they lie, are littered with the shattered homes of their people and the remnants of prosperous places of business and mining plants. No reliable estimate of the property loss can be made, but it is safe to say it will not be less than $5,000,000.

The paper and lumber industries are utterly destroyed. The timber supply indeed was rapidly nearing exhaustion, and at the best it was thought that five years from now the industry practically would be at an end. In fact about 200 families had moved from Austin this fall. Five hundred more would have gone within the next year or two, unless new industries came in to hold them.

A year ago last January a considerable leak was discovered in the immense dam. Although two feet along the rim of the dam were removed to relieve the pressure and a 14-foot patch was placed, it was noted that the alignment of the upper edge of the dam gradually became a slight arch instead of a straight line. This bulge caused worry on the part of the citizens and led to a somewhat recent inspection. Certain protective measures were decided on but the delay was fatal.

Below the torn dam to-day, the valley for miles or more is swept practically clean to bedrock and Freeman's Run, the main reservoir feeder, swollen by last night's rain, is sweeping through new channels where the main business portion of the town once stood.

ELECTRIC FREIGHT RUNAWAY DOWNHILL

One Killed and Many Hurt in Seattle Accident—Yesterday Morning

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 2.—Herman Schragar, 23 years of age, employed in the pressroom of a Seattle morning newspaper, was killed and fifteen others hurt at 4:30 yesterday morning when a carload of lumber broke loose from a Seattle electric freight train near the top of Fairview Hill. The train ran four blocks down a steep grade and crashed into a street car bearing newspaper employees and bundles of the Sunday papers.

The runaway car smashed headlong into the upcoming passenger car at the turn of a sharp curve nearly three blocks above Youngstown siding. Mortimer C. H. Jenks of the paper car, saved his life by jumping, but was badly bruised by flying timbers.

Every window in the car was smashed and the bundles of papers and passengers hurled in a heap. Not a person on the car escaped without a bruise or cut of some kind. That more were not killed was largely due to the fact that most of them were in the rear part of the car at the time of the collision.

CHINESE IMMIGRATION.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—From this date the administration of Chinese immigration affairs will be under the control of the immigration branch of the Interior Department and not of the Department of Trade and Commerce. The transfer, which was made on Saturday, was decided some time ago on the recommendation of Mr. Justice Murphy, who inquired into the Chinese immigration frauds on the Pacific coast.

BOUND ON THE TRACK.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 2.—With his hands and feet bound with rope and his pockets rifled, J. Thomas, 72 years of age, was found last night on his ranch near Sycamore, a station on the Estacada branch of the Portland Railway Light & Power Company.

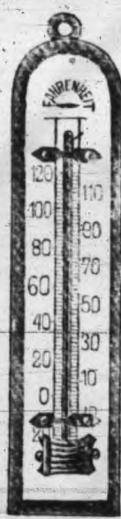

Robbery was the motive which caused Thomas to be bound but death was due to fright, or possibly poison, there being no marks on the man's body.

BANK MANAGER RESIGNS.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—Norman Ross, manager of Ottawa branch of Traders Bank, has resigned from that position to accept a more lucrative financial appointment in Western Canada. He left Sunday night for Winnipeg, which will be his headquarters. The financial interests which he will represent will, however, give him the whole of Western Canada as his territory.

MANN CUP COMES WEST.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 2.—In a well-played but strenuous game Saturday afternoon the Vancouver lacrosse team defeated the Mann Cup gold cup, beating the Young Torontos by 7 goals to 2. Only about fifty people saw the game.

SUNDAY WORK ON SEA WALL.

"Time and tide wait for no man," was the laudable remark made by Alderman Humber at the last meeting of council, in reference to the work on the Dallas Road sea wall being proceeded with on Sundays, and Alderman Gleason's effort to have it stopped by appealing to the contracting officials. It had been decided to ask the contractors to cease work on Sundays, as this city had no actual power to stop them. Having failed, however, Alderman Gleason was anxious that the matter should be taken up by the attorney-general.

Several of the aldermen expressed the view that Sunday work on the sea wall was absolutely necessary at this time, in view of the shortening season and the need for rushing the work, but Ald. Gleason thought that the sentiment of the people should be considered.

Ald. Humber thought there was inconsistency in allowing Sunday work on the streets, under the department of which Ald. Gleason is the executive head, and he was informed that such work was necessary, whereupon he made the remark quoted above.

Finally it was decided that the contractors should meet with the council to discuss the situation.

DAY SENTENCED TO EIGHTEEN MONTHS

Stated Case Asked and Refused—Appeal to Be Taken by Prisoner

John Day, convicted on Saturday night on a charge of receiving stolen naval yard stores, knowing them to have been stolen, and remanded for sentence, was given eighteen months' imprisonment this morning by Judge Lampman.

Stuart Henderson, for the prisoner, this morning renewed his application for a stated case on the ground that there was no identity proved between the stolen stores confessed to by Reid and the stores sold by Day to the Victoria Machinery depot. Other grounds were that there was no evidence of the navy having lost any goods except those stolen by Reid; alleged improper admissions of evidence by witnesses Williams and Bullock; that the accused came voluntarily before the court on the day of the trial and was not brought by the sheriff, and that the crown prosecutor examined the accused in regard to accused's conversations with his solicitor.

Judge Lampman refused the application and then asked the prisoner if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed.

Day had nothing to say, and after Mr. Alkman, for the crown, intimated that the naval authorities, through Commander Vivian, had informed him that a harsh sentence was not desired, but that the object was to prevent the theft of stores, the sentence was named.

"It is not necessary for me to say anything regarding the seriousness of your position," said Judge Lampman to the prisoner. "I see that you realize it yourself. You are sentenced to one year and six months' imprisonment."

The accused's solicitors intimated that an appeal to the B. C. court of appeal will be taken.

POLICE MAKE A BIG RAID IN VANCOUVER

Thousands Watch the Unwonted Sunday Scene in Terminal City

Vancouver, Oct. 2.—In the presence of about 2,000 spectators, who lined both sides of Hastings street near the corner of Main, last night about 8.30 o'clock, 67 men were taken to the police station. Almost all of them were Greeks and negroes and just prior to their arrest were having a fine time in a room over No. 127 Hastings street east. The place was fitted up as a restaurant.

There was an orchestra in one corner. At tables all over the room men sat eating and drinking or playing cards. Entered Deputy Chief Mulhern, Inspector McRae, Inspector Jackson, two or three sergeants and a large per cent of the police force. The people on the street soon found out that there was a raid in progress and in a few minutes the street was blocked with people.

Upstairs there was not much confusion. The men who were eating went on eating and the orchestra continued to play. The police, however, soon changed all that and every man in the place was placed under arrest. One man was charged with keeping a gambling house, and others with looking on at a gambling game. Then the business of moving the men to the police station was commenced. The patrol was called in and ten at a time the captured were taken over. Seven trips were made in about twenty minutes, and the space in front of the sergeant's desk looked like the staging of a mass meeting. While the first arrivals were weighing in and being searched at the police station, the orchestra discoursed sweet music to the rest in the room they had just left. The men were marched down stairs to the tune of some ancient Greek dead march. The musicians were the last to leave.

The crowd outside, hugely enjoyed the spectacle and did not leave until the last man had been taken to the station and the patrol had taken away.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of the lowest low water in each month of the year. This level is half a foot lower than the datum to which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are reduced.

SUNDAY WORK ON SEA WALL.

"Time and tide wait for no man," was the laughable remark made by Alderman Humber at the last meeting of the council, in reference to the work on the Dallas Road sea wall being proceeded with on Sundays, and Alderman Gleason's effort to have it stopped by appealing to the contracting officials. It had been decided to ask the contractors to cease work on Sundays, as this city had no actual power to stop them. Having failed, however, Alderman Gleason was anxious that the matter should be taken up by the attorney-general.

Several of the aldermen expressed the view that Sunday work on the sea wall was absolutely necessary at this time, in view of the shortening season and the need for rushing the work, but Ald. Gleason thought that the sentiment of the people should be considered.

Ald. Humber thought there was inconsistency in allowing Sunday work on the streets, under the department of which Ald. Gleason is the executive head, and he was informed that such work was necessary, whereupon he made the remark quoted above.

Finally it was decided that the contractors should meet with the council to discuss the situation.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 6 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of the lowest low water in each month of the year. This level is half a foot lower than the datum to which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are reduced.

HUNDREDS SWEEP TO WATERY DEATH

BREAKING DAM FREES MILLIONS OF GALLONS

Flood Which Recalls That at Johnstown Sweeps Down Valley in Same State

Coudersport, Pa., Oct. 2.—With a roar heard for miles, the great dam of the Hayless Pulp and Paper Company, at Austin, Pa., 14 miles from here, went out at 2.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The ruins when darkness came, and it is estimated that fully 400 more persons are unaccounted for and are believed to be dead.

The dam, which was 530 feet long and 49 feet high, was 32 feet thick at the base, and held back more than 600,000,000 gallons of water. For the first time since its construction, two years ago, the water was running over the top Saturday, and many persons went out from Austin, a mile and a half away, to see it. They were horrified when a section about 20 feet wide gave way on the west side. A great volume of water poured through the hole, and the alarm was quickly sounded. People ran for their lives to the nearby hills, but some were caught in the flood and whirled down the valley. A moment later another break occurred, this time on the east side. It was greater, and permitted the bulk of the mass of water behind to rush in a volume toward the townlands.

Harry Davis, a locomotive engineer of this place, reached a telephone and notified the operator at the exchange. She called as many persons as possible, but the time was short. The rushing flood tore down the little valley, carrying death on its crest.

Hundreds of women and children—the men were at work—were caught in their homes and drowned or crushed before they knew what had happened. Houses went down before the mighty rushing water, and gas pipes, bent and broken, released their dangerous contents. Before the water had passed on its terrible course through the town a dozen fires were burning in as many places, and the cries of the injured and imprisoned persons joined in the terrible thunder of the flood.

Much of the debris lodged against the shops of the Buffalo and Susquehanna railroad, and there the fire raged furiously. Many men were caught here, and it is believed few, if any, escaped with their lives. The course of the flood was through the business centre of the little village. A majority of the buildings were of wood, and those which were not immediately wrecked by the torrent were soon in flames.

So sudden was the onslaught of the water that many persons had no time to flee to the hills, but others received the warning, and believing there was a fire, hastened to the centre of the town, only to be caught in the flood and swept away.

The flood passed quickly, leaving devastation in its wake. Houses had been crushed and tossed about like toys, while hundreds of bodies had been carried down on the crest of the surging torrent.

With the passage of the water, those who had fled to the hills hastened to return to their ruined homes in search of relatives and friends. Here and there bodies had been cast along the path of the torrent, and about 40 bodies were recovered in a short time. Some of them had been so badly battered by the tossing debris that they were beyond recognition, while others had been carried along with no apparent injury.

Many were caught in burning buildings, and it will be days before the extent of the calamity will be known. It is believed that no fewer than 400 persons perished, and some estimates are higher.

The catastrophe paralleled in many respects the destruction by flood of Johnstown, Pa., in 1889, in which more than 2,500 lives were lost. The extent of the loss of life and the destruction of property cannot be known for several days.

The property loss surely will be several million dollars. Within an hour of the first general knowledge of the calamity, special trains bearing physicians, nurses and food supplies were on the way to the scene. Hundreds of automobiles bearing rescuers all tolled over the mountain roads to lend aid. The food supply of the town and immediate aid to the survivors was urgent.

Hundreds of those who escaped were seriously injured in the collapse of their homes and the panic of the rush for safety. Temporary hospitals were fitted up in nearby farmhouses and improvised structures fashioned from the wreckage. The Red Cross also made preparations for immediate aid to survivors. The intense heat of the fire sweeping from the natural gas mains made it impossible for survivors to visit the scene of destruction for many hours. Looters were among the first on the ground, and Governor Tener dispatched a large force of state police to the town to protect the victims.

THINKING THEMES BY DR. FRANK CRANE

There is a woman I know who is an expert in one of the most important arts within the range of human accomplishment—the art of getting along with folks. It is well to be wise and pretty, it is well to be free and strong, it is well to live your own life; it is well to strive and to conquer, but the small but blessed group of them that can just get along with everybody deserves some praise.

We abuse them, we call them barneyers, shifty and gifted in side-stopping. From the downright heights of our opinions and principles and ideals we pooh-pooh them. But they are, none the less, the most comfortable people in the world to live with. When we are irritable, they know the trick of stroking our fur the right way. When we are glum they know the sweet secret of silence. When we state a pugnacious opinion and bristle up to prove it, and are spoiling for a fight, they find some remarkable originality in our crazy notion, that flatters us into calm. They don't do as we advise them, but they are most deft in explanations why they could not. They have a keen nose for avoiding sore subjects of conversation. They know when to laugh and when to look sympathetic. Many a family blaze has been prevented by their acute sense of social smoke. They can see trouble coming a mile away, and guide us all down a by-lane. They are human lubricants. They are the gifted ones who can manage human bees and never get stung. They may lie a little, but still, "blessed are the Peace Makers."

ESTIMATES VARY OF NUMBER OUT ON STRIKE

Harriman System Men Obey
the Call More in East Than on Pacific

Chicago, Oct. 2.—The threatened strike of the shopmen on the Harriman lines to enforce recognition of the newly organized federation of shop workers, became a reality Saturday. The number of men who quit in the fifteen states affected, was estimated at between twenty thousand and thirty thousand by the union men, although Julius Kruttschnitt, vice-president of the Harriman lines, said the number was much smaller. Reports from most of the points indicate that the men walked out without demonstrations, and no rioting was reported. Traffic was continued with interruption, and the railroad heads say that the shopmen's strike, even if it extends, will not interfere with trains.

The response to the strike order was general throughout the Middle West and in the South. The men had received notices from the international presidents of the five crafts directly involved, and when the hour came they laid down their tools and left.

At New Orleans, where the strike already had extended from a strike of the Illinois Central clerks, and the men have been out several days, two men received jail sentences for violation of a federal injunction restraining them from interfering with the company's property. In the Far West, it is said by railroad officials, only a small percentage of the workmen responded to the strike call.

Vice-President Kruttschnitt issued this statement: "At many of the intermediate points on the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific shop forces were laid off to reduce working time and effect a reduction of expenses. At other points no men at all went out, and at some points only one or two. At the general shops, so far as heard from, the situation was as follows:

—Omaha, general shops, 29 per cent. At Sacramento, 25 per cent. At Oakland, 11 per cent. Train schedules on all lines are normal, and the maintenance of regular schedules will in no manner be interfered with."

The men involved are divided into the following groups, according to union leaders: Machinists, 1,000; boilermakers, 4,000; blacksmiths, 3,000; carmen, 11,000; clerks, 1,000; miscellaneous workmen, 1,000.

W. L. Parks, vice-president and general manager of the Illinois Central, issued a circular to employees of the road to-night, characterizing the demands of the men as radical, relating the story of the negotiations and charging that the contracts between the men and the unions have not been abrogated by the necessary thirty days' notice.

From Pacific Coast End.

San Francisco, Oct. 2.—Comparison of reports from the shops of the Harriman system indicates that the strike order affecting the federated shop employees was more generally obeyed in the east than on the Pacific coast. In the district in the jurisdiction of E. E. Calvin, vice-president and general manager of the Southern Pacific company, approximately 10,000 men are employed in the shops, and a statement issued from the office of the general manager said that a fraction less than 30 per cent of these men obeyed the strike order. Mr. Calvin's jurisdiction extends to Ashland, Ore., on the north, to Sparks, Nev., on the east, and to El Paso on the south. The statement applies to all shopmen embraced in this territory.

In San Francisco the strike order was more generally obeyed than in any other of the large shops on the coast, practically every man walking out. In Oakland about 1,300 men are employed,

DISMEMBERMENT OF TURKEY PREDICTED

Turkish Businessmen Take Gloomy Views of the Outlook

New York, Oct. 2.—The view which Turkish business men take of the trouble between their country and Italy is indicated in a pessimistic statement given out here by Dr. Vahan Cardashian, counselor of the Ottoman chamber of commerce in America, of which the Turkish ambassador is president.

"The gradual dismemberment of Turkey may be expected now," said Mr. Cardashian. "Everything in the European political situation seems to indicate a coalition of the powers against Turkey. Now that Italy has shared off our last outlying possession, I expect that Turkish territory will be steadily invaded until the country ceases to appear on the map. Gradually encroaching European spheres of influence hem Turkey in on every side. Austria is eagerly awaiting for the opportunity to seize Salonika, on the Adriatic. Germany has an outpost on the Aegean sea. Russia is prepared to assimilate Armenia, while France's interest in Syria and Britain's possession of Cyprus complete the circle.

"No traditional or historic European precedent can excuse or justify Italy's claim to a protectorate over Tripoli.

Tripoli is decrepit and emaciated in industry and commerce, but a vast area, about eight times the size of New York state, and immense commercial possibilities. As a Mediterranean naval port Italy needs a base on the north shore of Africa.

"The reported boycott of Italian goods in Asia Minor and the deprivation of Italian subjects of their rights are the clumsiest pretexts."

LONDON COMMENT ON RECENT ELECTION

London, Sept. 30.—The Spectator in an editorial sympathizes with Sir Wilfrid Laurier in his unexpected and crushing defeat after he was for nearly twenty years the "Greatest Canadian of His Time." It asserts that the people of the Dominion were called by "new gods and followed them."

The Spectator predicts that some day free trade will be asked for and accepted by Canada from the United States.

Hon. H. Chaplin's Views.

Right Hon. Henry Chaplin, Unionist M. P. for Wimbledon, has issued a manifesto pointing out that the victory of Imperialism in Canada was essentially a triumph for Imperial preference. "What is England going to do now?" he asks, and answers the question by stating that she ought to respond in a clear voice to the sentiment of Canada as expressed at the polls, by carrying through a policy of Imperial preference. This course, he argues, would help to rid England of the curse of unemployment by securing better and larger markets for British goods in the Dominion.

THE NEW GOVERNMENT.

The News-Advertiser of Vancouver is very sanguine that all differences respecting provincial rights as debatable in conflict with the federal government's claims will be amicably settled.
It anticipates this especially with respect to the semblance of a conflict of opinion as to some property rights at Point Grey, where the new provincial university is to be founded, and it says that the new government may reasonably be expected to assist rather than obstruct the provincial enterprise.
Were it not for the somewhat childish habit the Vancouver organ has of running in an undertone through all its discussion of the relation of federal to provincial administrations the theory that differences between these two could exist only because of party differences we might place some confidence in its optimism. The suggestion that the province has been embarrassed in securing its alleged rights because it happened to have a Tory administration during the Laurier regime is one of those frequent evidences of the firm belief of the organ that a single party in power throughout Canada can settle all these differences amicably to the party and somewhat irrespective of actual rights in the cases called in question. We sincerely hope that all the claims which Premier McBride has urged against the federal government can be settled upon this theory and with such ease. It would take many complications out of the arena of dispute as between the province and the Dominion, and would, in addition, very much increase the wealth and power of the province.To begin with, there is the question of "Better Terms," to which the Times made reference a few days ago. We have been assured by one of Premier McBride's lick-spittle papers that the better terms for which the Premier so earnestly contended would be granted now without a murmur. We were even told that this would be "driving another nail in the coffin of Liberalism" in Canada. If these predictions—already amounting to promises—are not simply thermalized atmosphere we are, indeed, at the commencement of a new era.There are several other questions which were in an unsettled status whenthe Liberal administration went out of power. One of these is the "claims" of the Indians of British Columbia to certain rights in the lands of the province and which Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he would submit to the arbitration of the courts. Premier McBride says the Indians have no claim; we may now presume that Premier Borden will agree with him. Thus will two questions be amicably settled. The two greatest constitutional lawyers in Canada, being both of the same political party, will meet and agree that certain things are so, and there you are.
How are you going to help yourself?In our willingness to be optimistic in these matters we are, unfortunately, somewhat restrained by the fact that there are certain inalienable rights in-hering to the Dominion and, in respect to some matters still in dispute between Ottawa and Victoria we cannot see that the mere advent to power of a new government breaks down all the difficulties in these legal complications.
Whatever we may think of Mr. R. L.
Borden as a politician and statesman,
we do not accept the theory that he will extravagantly dispense all federal rights in an endeavor to satisfy the avaricious demands of these provincial political leeches who now think that all they have to do is to ask for the delivery of the blood. We think the trust reposed in Mr. Borden by the people of Canada will steady him up if he needs any bracing. The people of Canada have voted Mr. Borden into power, and if he pursues the same theory of party spoliation as obtains in this province he will not last out a term.

CONSERVATIVE TRIBUTE.

Now that the flag-waving campaign and the species of hysteria which it produced have accomplished the desired end, some of the more honest of Conservative newspapers are inclined to be candid in their printed opinions.
The following is from the Ottawa Journal, which is first supported and then opposed reciprocity:"No political leader ever went down to defeat more gallantly than Sir Wilfrid Laurier did this month. At the age of 70 he made a campaign which for vigor, eloquence and courage was a marvel. That sometimes his good temper failed him, as it had never before done, was no wonder, in view of the regularly harassing nature of the contest to him. Subjected on the one hand to attack because of being insufficiently British in sympathy, he was assailed on the other by the charge that he was aiming to butcher French-Canadian youth in British wars; and both extremes joined to denounce him
as aiming to risk Canadian autonomy by his reciprocity proposition. Human nature would need to be angelic to be free from restiveness under such mixed prodding as all that."Mistaken in his indifference to the British sentiment of Canada, incompetent in his business questions such as the C. P. R. Pacific and the Quebec bridge, and deaf to criticisms of the management of government departments, Sir Wilfrid Laurier nevertheless ranked and still ranks as a great Canadian and a great man. His grasp of constitutional principles, his breadth of mind, his eloquence, courage and kindness, his personal shrewdness and picturesqueness have justly made him a notable figure on the world's stage."In regard to the defeated Ministers the Journal says:—"A good thing for Canada it would be if the eight Liberal Cabinet Ministers who fell in Thursday's battle could be in this Parliament in place of lesser men of their party. The exceptional ability
and the great Parliamentary experience of Mr. Fielding, Mr. Graham and Mr. Fisher were very valuable assets to the Liberal cause. Sir Frederick Borden unquestionably possessed a valuable knowledge and keen interest in military affairs. Messrs. Paterson, Templeman, King and Bureau each had qualifications to be especially useful in Parliament. The new House is the worse of the absence of such experienced public men so long as a sufficient majority on the other side insures a new executive regime on the hill."The absence of Mr. Fielding and Mr. Graham must be particularly deplored. Both were of the finest type of Canadian public men. We doubt if Mr. Graham's battle could be in this Parliament in place of lesser men of
their party. The exceptional ability
and the great Parliamentary experience of Mr. Fielding, Mr. Graham and that any Minister or any Liberal who entered the recent contest on the reciprocity platform had any idea that the proposition was dangerous either to Canadian business independence or to British connection. The mistake was of judgment, not of any design to affect existing political conditions, though such, we believe (and the majority of the people of Canada have shown themselves to believe) would have been the lamentable result."A letter in the London Times, deals with the complaints of the increased cost of living in recent years. It challenges the alleged increase, save in a few specific cases. The increase in England, it says, has been hardly noticeable. Reason is considerably higher

THE COMFORT OF HOME

Depends largely on warmth. No house can be cheerful unless it is well heated.
No house can be well heated unless good

People who use our coal find it always satisfactory, because it is the cleanest,

as a result of American Trust operations, and sugar slightly increased. A few years ago. Bread rose with the price of wheat about twelve months ago, but fell again when wheat prices fell. On the other hand, good butchers' meat has been brought within the reach of many by the importation of frozen or chilled meat. Rents have not risen, and the same is true of most necessaries of life.Very interesting, somewhat depressing, but also illuminating no matter what the verdict may be, is the evidence taken before the tribunal now sitting in the city hall.Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, who has been known as a Unionist, is the latest to announce himself as a convert to the idea of Home Rule for Ireland. His should be a helpful pen for the cause in the coming electoral struggle.The Calgary News-Telegram publishes the following Vancouver dispatch under date of September 26:"Premier McBride will enter federal politics. Here is how it is planned out by prominent Conservatives of Vancouver. Alderman Stevens, who last September, will take the post of supervisor of customs at Vancouver, vice J.
M. Bowell, who has already applied for superannuation. Premier McBride will then run in Vancouver, and his election is likely to be conceded, so well organized is the Conservative machine.
McBride's position in the federal cabinet will probably be Minister of the Interior, and after one season it is likely he will take the leadership. Borden being said to be anxious to get out of the political arena. Attorney General Bowser will take the premiership in B. C." Quite properly the News-Telegram made the dispatch "Political Bunk from the Coast."We note to-day from Bradstreet's a short paragraph for the edification of that section of the community led into the delusion that in some unexplainable way the lowering of the price of foodstuffs must have the effect of reducing the pay of the wage earner.
Here is the paragraph:"The market for finished steel products is more unsettled. Price cutting is very much in evidence, but at the same time reports regarding the same are frequently exaggerated. Yet it is recognized that anything like liberal orders beget attractive concessions.
In short, the market is devoid of cooperation among the producing interests, and under the circumstances buyers hold off, partly because of lower prices and partly in order to protect themselves. In fact, the trend is such that the question of reducing wages is becoming quite prominent."It will be apparent from this authoritative article that wages are not determined by the cost of living but by commercial and industrial conditions largely controlled by the manipulators of the industrial markets. While the trend of the cost of living in America and all other protected countries is upward, it will be seen that the trend of wages is downward. Those who permit themselves to be deluded into voting for high tariffs under the impression that these guarantee good times, plenty of employment and high wages will find their teachers only too willing to advise contentment when men are paid "only enough to live on."

CONTRACT FOR TERMINALS.

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—It is definitely announced to-day that the contract for construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific terminals depot at Quebec City has been let to Joseph Gosselin, of Levis, for $745,000. The tender accepted was the lowest. There has been some criticism of the action of the government in letting this contract in its dying days.

NEW POSITION FOR JUST.

London, Oct. 2.—The Canadian Asso-

who acted as chief of the Imperial conference secretariat, and who made an extensive tour of Canada last spring.

Men's Overcoats—Quality and Price to Please All

This year we have a larger and more assorted collection of Men's Overcoats than ever we had before, and the prices, quality considered, are much lower than even the most exacting man can reasonably expect.The materials include Beavers, Meltons and Scotch Tweeds, in many mixtures, in single-breasted styles, with roll-
or two-way collars, smart in appearance, but tailored to give the most service for your money.Many of the materials have been specially treated to be shower-proof—in fact they will resist quite a heavy downpour.
They come in a variety of colors and mixtures, including all the newest shades and mixtures of greys, greens, browns, fawns, black and blues.One of the most prominent features of this coat is the patent Bartell pockets.
These pockets will not sag or gape, no matter how heavy or bulky the goods may be that you wish to carry in them—in fact,
a heavy weight, not too bulky, will make the mouth of the pocket close tighter than ever.You must see this demonstrated before you can realize the value of this invention, but when we tell you that the manufacturers of these garments pay a revenue of $2,000 a year for the privilege of using the patent, you will realize that it is something more than a mere talking point.

The Duplex Heater—The Best at a Minimum
Price $20, Worth Much Moreapparatus that can be easily adjusted, also with hot blast tube.
In appearance this heater is as handsome as you can desire. It is well proportioned, has a moderate amount of high grade nickel work and the iron parts have a very smooth finish, making it easy to clean.We strongly recommend this Heater to Victorians for three reasons: First, because it is made by a local firm directly under our supervision; we know that it is built of the finest of materials and put together in the most scientific manner. Secondly, because it is designed to burn local fuel—wood or coal equally well—and give the most heat at a small cost, and because it will burn wood equally well when laid flat in the grate as when reared on end in the usual way.The body is constructed of heavy plan-ished steel, the fire pot, grate and base of selected cast-iron, and is lined throughout with good detachable linings.The ash-pan—a most important item—is made of heavy sheet metal, is extra deep and easy to get at. Anyone who has used local coal to any extent will readily realize the advantage of this feature—not found in most Eastern-made heaters where hard coal is used.The Duplex reversible grate is another feature worthy of note. It is made like the grate in a high grade range, and can be instantly adjusted to suit the fuel you wish to use. It is fitted with a new draftWomen's and Children's Underwear

A PRESENTATION

FOR MRS. PERRIN

Illuminated Address and Hand-some Gift Presented Her by Diocesan Board

On Friday, Sept. 29th, the Diocesan Board of the W. A. to Missions held their usual monthly meeting in Christ Church schoolroom. Mrs. Miller, the first vice-president, was in the chair, and there was a very large attendance of members. After prayers had been read by the Rev. W. Barton, the Lord Bishop of the Diocese was asked to receive a farewell address from the members to Mrs. Perrin, their much loved president. Mrs. Toller read the address, which had been beautifully illuminated by Mrs. T. S. Johnston, and tied with ribbons decorated with a design of maple leaves and corn.

Mrs. Perrin has been president for seven years, and in that time has won the high esteem and affection of all with whom she has come in contact.

The presentation accompanying the address took the form of a pearl and emerald necklace, and $5 a cheque which Mrs. Perrin was asked to use for any mission in the diocese which she had most at heart. The bishop in a few appropriate words thanked the society for its warm expression of affection for the retiring president, and described how keen had been Mrs. Perrin's regret in parting with her dearly loved home at Bishopsclose, and how she would have liked to accompany him to Victoria to bid farewell to her many friends in person.

The ordinary business of the month was then proceeded with. The treasurer reported receipts to be $158.29 and expenditure $576.65. The Dorcas secretary reported work for the Columbia Coast Mission, in particular for the new hospital at Rock Bay, and for the Alert Bay Industrial School. Three boxes of books and magazines were ready to be sent off to the logging camps.

The organizing and literature secretaries reported on work done in the summer months, and the literature secretary made an appeal for more books for the library. Letters were read from Miss Alice Turner, one of the delegates to the triennial meeting now being held in Winnipeg, and from the general board, proposing a visit from one or two of the officers at the close of the meeting. The reports of the Chinese Mission School and of the class for Hindus held in St. John's schoolroom, were also very satisfactory.

It was decided to postpone the election of a new president until next month.

Tea was then served by the members of the Cathedral branch.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

Overdose of Bi-chlorate of Mercury Proved Fatal.

A verdict of accidental death was brought in on Saturday by the jury empaneled to enquire into the death of Mrs. Annie Jamieson, of 2337 Fernwood road. The deceased was taken to the hospital on Tuesday and died on Friday. Owing to the fact that her doctor could not give a certificate of death an inquest was ordered.

When taken to the hospital she was suffering from an overdose of bi-chlorate of mercury, and from the evidence of her brother and husband given out in the enquiry it appeared that she took the poison to relieve pain.

Dr. O'Neill stated that he had been called on immediately after Mrs. Jamieson took the poison, and that he did everything he could to dissipate its effects. The jury was composed of the following: S. Hancock, foreman; G. Weir, A. Argyle, G. Taylor and J. W. Booker.

SURVEYORS' EXAMINATIONS.
Half Yearly Test For Both Grades Is Being Held This Week.

The half yearly examination of the Corporation of Land Surveyors of B. C. began this morning in the parliament buildings, with both preliminary and final papers. The former will last about three or four days, and the latter throughout the week. Arrangements have been made by the secretary-treasurer, S. A. Roberts.

R. G. Pemberton, the well-known Vancouver coach, who prepared 13 out of the 20 successful candidates at the previous examination, has arrived in the city for the examination, having seven students entered in each of the sections on this occasion.

HAPPY CONCLUSION

TO Y. M. C. A. OPENING

Large Gathering at Swimming Competitions on Saturday—Victoria's Win at Polo

The concluding reception of the opening week at the new Y. M. C. A. building passed off successfully on Saturday, there being again a large attendance. The swimming events had easily first place in popular estimation, the relay race and polo match between the Vancouver Athletic Club and the Y. M. C. A. attracting much attention.

In the water polo match, which A. B. Catter, C. A. S. S., of Vancouver, refereed, the home team had a lead of three goals to one at half time, and added two more in the second period. They had most of the play, Muir doing some useful work in attack. The lineup was: Victoria, J. Muir (capt.), F. Crompton, W. Muir, P. R. Pomfret, and F. Hartling, goal. Vancouver A. C., H. R. Kowman (capt.), H. Frith, F. Godfrey, P. J. Pickett, and W. F. Berryman, goal.

In the relay race, 160 yards distance, the local team got a lead with their first man, and won ultimately by two-thirds of a length. Victoria: F. Crompton (capt.), J. Thorn, J. McNeil, and W. Muir. Vancouver A. C.: F. J. Pickett, F. Godfrey, H. Frith, and H. R. Kenwyn (capt.).

The exhibitions of swimming strokes, demonstrated by L. Godfrey (breast), W. Muir (side), J. McNeil (back), F. Crompton (trudgen), and J. Thorn (crawl), were watched with great interest, as was the demonstration of life saving according to the methods of the Royal Life Saving Society by P. R. Pomfret, and assistants, J. Cameron and N. McNeil, showed examples of under-water swimming, and Pomfret again proved his remarkable powers in the water by making his way when tied securely.

The novelty race, to swim with a lighted candle, again provoked much amusement, and in it took part L. Moody, G. Stott, and A. McNeil.

Arrangements are being completed for the championship meeting on Oct. 24.

At an early date the swimming club will hold a dinner, at the invitation of one of the members.

The gymnastic display was also much appreciated. During the evening there was a gathering, over which W. N. Mitchell presided, in the assembly hall, C. R. Sayer, travelling secretary for western Canada, being the principal speaker. He gave an interesting address on the work of the association, and occasion was taken to thank the ladies, the soloists, and others who had assisted to make the opening week's reception a success, which they have undoubtedly been, the building having been thronged on every occasion.

MONTHLY STATISTICS SHOW PROSPERITY

Bank Clearings for Nine Months Nearly Hundred Millions

The progress of Victoria is again demonstrated in the monthly statistics which show a considerable advance in the month of September, being a somewhat quiet month in business.

The bank clearings for the past nine months amount to $98,787,556, as compared with $72,246,290, in the corresponding period of last year, an increase of twenty-six and one-half millions of dollars. The comparative figures for the month of September in the past three years is as follows: 1911, $9,652,394; 1910, $7,984,944; 1909, $5,564,553.

Turning to the figures for building permits, it is satisfactory to notice that while the figures of value for September are not so large as August, they are the second largest of any months in the present year, and a substantial advance on the figures for 1910. The actual statistics of value are $40,235, or $2,694,215, for the nine months which have so far expired. The principal item for this month is the large block on the corner of View and Broad streets, for McPherson & Fullerton, a total value of $125,000. One hundred and twenty permits were granted by Mr. Northcott, the building inspector, as against 87 in September, 1910. The permits already have easily surpassed the total for the twelve months of last year, the number for the nine months so far elapsed being 892.

Ladies' Musical Club

The Ladies' Musical Club drew a large attendance to the Alexandra Club on Saturday. Mrs. Richard Nash had arranged the programme, which included three ladies who had not previously taken part in these arrangements.

Miss Gladys Shrapnell appeared in duet with Benedict Bantley in selections from Tchaikowski and Brahms, the latter the Hungarian dance No. 4, and the excerpts were greatly enjoyed. Miss F. Goodwin Barton gave two songs, the subjects being well suited to her voice, and Miss Young contributed violin solos which were greatly appreciated. She played Herbert's "Serenade" and De Beriot's "Fantasie" with much effect, as well as a selection, "Sour-enr." Another feature which was much appreciated was the assistance of Miss Long, whose pianoforte selections were much appreciated, but unfortunately the vocal duet by Mrs. Briggs and Mrs. Truop had to be abandoned owing to the absence of the latter. Mrs. Briggs, however, charmingly sang "O Come to Me." Mrs. A. J. Gibson made an excellent accompanist. No encores were allowed on this occasion, but will be permitted at future concerts.

FOUR CITY LEAGUE MATCHES SATURDAY

Garrison Leads First Division Football Teams—West In- termediates Increase Lead

Four city league football matches were played on Saturday afternoon,
two senior and two second division.
In the first division the Garrison took the lead by defeating the Wests at the Work Point grounds by a score of 3 to 0. The Wests and Foresters drew, 2 all, at the Royal Athletic park. In the second division the Wests increased their lead by winning from the Bays by a score of 2 to 1, while the Foresters went into second place by virtue of their win from the Garrison with an overwhelming score of 5 to 1.
The West Garrison senior game may have to be played over, owing to the fact that the Garrison played an ineligible man in Wiley. Wiley is a registered member of the Sons of England

club, and had not yet made application for his transfer to the Garrison.
In any case he could not play with the latter club until seven days after his application had been accepted.

Wards vs. Foresters.

A good crowd turned out to the Royal Athletic park, where the first division Wards and Foresters met for the first time this season in an interesting match which ended with a score of two each. The first period of play was decidedly in favor of the lodgemen, and it was then that they made their goals, the first being scored by J. For-
ris. The second score for the Foresters was undeniably a fluke. The ball was sent in by MacFarlane. It rolled along the ground towards the Wards' goal, and had nearly stopped before it reached it entirely. In the second half, Mc-Dougall got in a shot past Goal-tender
Harvey, and shortly before time
Strang, centre half for the Wards, crowned the score. Strang, Brynjolfson and Taylor did good work for the Wards. For the lodgemen, Ferris, Welsh and Cunningham layed sterling ball. The teams lined up as follows:

Foresters—Goal, Harvey; full backs,
Welsh and Cunningham; half backs,
Young, J. Ferris, Slater; forwards, Patterson, McFarlane, Spence, Doug and Ingalls.

North Ward—Goal, Baines; full backs, Tabster and McDonald; half backs, Taylor, Strang and Brynjolfson;

forwards, Dakers, Young, Sharp, Mc-Dougall and McCarter.

S. Campbell refereed satisfactorily.

Garrison vs. Wests.

By making a brilliant effort in the last twenty minutes of play, the Garrison senior team won from the Wests
on Saturday on the Work Point grounds by the score of 3-0. At half time no score had been registered, and on the resumption of play the odds seemed in favor of the Wests. When about fifteen minutes of play were left,
a foul was called on Robertson, goaltender for the Wests. The kick was taken by Gale, the Garrison centre forward, who placed the ball neatly into the net. After some excellent combination and dribbling by Buxton and Gale, the former registered the second tally. The last goal was put in by Gale, who made an unaided rush from centre. For the winners, Wiley and Elton showed up well on the defence line, while Buxton, Gale and Ward performed brilliantly on the forward
division. Sherret, Whyte and Youson played a steady game for the Wests.
The teams were:

Victoria West—Goal, Robertson; full backs, Whyte and Prevost; halves, Stewart, Pettier and Wilson; forwards, Sherret, Youson, J. Peddy, Whittaker and Wright.

Garrison—Goal, Beane; full backs, Wiley and Elton; halves, Brown, Buxton and Vincent; forwards, Buxton, Stevens, Gale, Mills and Ward.

Second Division.

The West second division team climbed another space in the league on Saturday by winning a hard-fought game from J. B. A. A., the score being 2-1.
No tally was made until the second half. The losers played with ten men during the whole game.

At Beacon Hill an uninteresting game was won by the Foresters from Garrison. The score was 5-1. The Garrison showed up well in the second half and held their opponents down to an even score, one each.

League Standing

Everett, Wash., Oct. 2.—Vancouver had it easy with Victoria here yesterday, taking the game 10 to 1. Hard and well-bunched hits did the trick. The Islanders'

PLAYED A TIE AND DID NOT KNOW IT

Vancouver and Victoria Drew at Everett on Saturday—
Devost's Home Run

Everett, Wash., Oct. 2.—Vancouver and Victoria played a nine-inning tie game on Saturday. A misunderstanding occurred regarding the score. It was not discovered that the result was a tie until half the players had left the field. The game was a slugging match. DeVost got a home run in the fifth inning, due to roughness of the field. Swain falling when he attempted to field the ball. The score:

"Hoosiers" Below the Sea

Two hundred feet below the level of the sea in a little village of El Centro, there are fifty-nine Hoosier Special Kitchen Cabinets.

Most of the houses in El Centro are mere tents, for the town is new. The country around is an utter desert once the bottom of the Salton sea.

The hot winds of this parched waste of land tests the best furniture in the world. Most furniture shrinks and falls to pieces there in the dry, harsh heat. But the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet stood the test and this Summer many of the pioneer housekeepers of El Centro put Hoosier Cabinets in their homes.

Such a Kitchen Cabinet is a safe investment for the changing temperature of your kitchen. Buy it now. It saves thousands of steps and hours of time. It saves your supplies. Buy it now.

Inspect This Cabinet at $40.00 and Compare it With the Price

The Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet gives you more for your money than any other cabinet. Notice how MUCH MORE goes with the Hoosier with NO EXTRA CHARGE.

Metal flour bin with sliding glass panels and removable sifter. Bin holds 55 pounds; self-feeding metal sugar bin, when a scoopful is taken out the same quantity drops down. Six crystal glass spice jars with aluminum lids. Crystal glass tea and coffee jars with aluminum lids, Hoosier patent clock face "want list," metal bread and cake box, plate rack, sliding shelf, big cupboard, large compartment for pots and pans, cutlery and linen drawer, handy hooks, copper door fasteners and drawer pulls.

It's Certainly Great Value

"Macey" Sectional Bookcases

In furniture, as in painting, literature and music there were great masters.

Painting had its Michael Angelo—Furniture its Chippendale. Literature had its Shakespears—Furniture its Fra Junipero. Music had its Mozart—Furniture its Sheraton.

Chippendale, who lived in the 17th century, designed furniture of such beauty and exquisite taste that the whole world has copied it for three centuries. Fra Junipero, a great nature, bold and rugged, originated the clean-cut arts-and-crafts furniture. He loved honest strength and made his furniture show its solid joints and honest workmanship. Sheraton, on the contrary, had a nature full of symmetry, balanced harmony. He could tell us of his fine sensitive personality only by shaping it in mahogany. Therefore, when you have Sheraton, Chippendale or Arts-and-Crafts furniture in your home you have furniture that is constantly telling you of taste and beauty. It is almost the same as associating with the great masters themselves. That's why we say "To set before your children a Macey Book Cabinet of old master's design is to set before them an example of such good taste that they will feel its refining influence throughout all the days of their lives."

Macey Bookcases are sectional, but they are the only sectional bookcases that can be added to upwards or sideways and still look not like sectional bookcases but like heirloom furniture.

Mr. O. H. L. Wernicke, father of sectional bookcases, originated the idea of sectional bookcases in old master designs. Mr. Wernicke's name still appears in the corporate title of a competing firm but it is now connected only with "The Macey Sectional Bookcase."

If you really wish to put into your home a piece of furniture that will always radiate beauty and refining influence examine a Macey Old Master Book Cabinet on our fourth floor to-day.

ADVERTISE IN THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

DECISIVE DEFEAT OF N. L. U. CHAMPIONS

With Tecumsehs—Will Play
Vancouver Had Easy Time
Match in Victoria

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 2.—In the world's championship lacrosse game on Saturday Vancouver defeated the Tecumseh team of Toronto, champions of eastern Canada, 5 to 0.

It was the first shutout in the experience of the Tecumsehs for several seasons. Vancouver completely outclassed the eastern champions. The affair was tame, only enlivened when the players lost their tempers and engaged in exhibitions of fistuffs.

The second match of the series will be played next Saturday, but as Vancouver now has five goals to the good, the Tecumsehs have hardly a chance to win.

Final arrangements were made on Saturday for the two teams, champions of the west and east respectively, to play an exhibition match in Victoria on Monday, October 9.

ABOUT BASEBALL

Vancouver and Seattle for an all-coast league in 1912 is the talk now going the rounds in official circles down in California, where the Pacific Coast League moguls transact their business. The proposition looks so good that a party of directors of the Coast League will visit Seattle and Vancouver this week on their way east to talk over the situation with the Northwest club magnates. The party will include Cal Ewing, of Los Angeles, and Judge W. W. McCredie, owner of the Portland club in the Coast and Northwest leagues. The trio are going to the world's series, going east from here over the C. P. R., but they will spend a couple of days in Seattle and Vancouver to look over the territory. And this practically means that there may be something stirring in an all-coast league proposition before the 1912 season comes around.

Krause, the pitcher whom Victoria bought from Centralia in the Washington State league, has pitched 18 games throughout the season, and of these has won 8 and lost 6.

For the sake of those who may have forgotten the following is the personnel of the All-Stars, who play the Beavers in Vancouver on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday of this week: Leard (Seattle), 2b.; Millon (Victoria), c.f.; Goodman (Victoria), 1b.; Bues (Seattle), 1b.; Kipper (Spokane), 1b.; Weil (Seattle), r.f.; Coleman (Tacoma), c.; Stacia (Seattle), Whaling (Seattle), c.; Annis (Tacoma), McCreey (Victoria), Gordon (Tacoma), Schmutz (Tacoma), pitchers. The two teams play in New Westminster on Thursday and Saturday and in Seattle on Sunday.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Bad weather prevented more than two of the National League clubs from playing a game Sunday but these two happened to be the leaders in the pennant race. The game resulted in a victory for New York by a shut-out score, making the series an even break. It increased New York's lead over Chicago to 56 points. New York's advantage now being so great that should Chicago win all her remaining seven games, New York will have to win only three of her remaining twelve games. Should Chicago win all and New York but two, a tie for the pennant would result.

A WONDERFUL TURBINE.
Not so long ago in a gas factory, at Ivry, near Paris, a Laval turbine, driven by jets of steam, was set to work, and once fairly under way, was driven for 260 hours, or 150 days, without stopping for an instant. An automatic oiler kept it lubricated, and a workman visited it once in twelve hours to replenish the oil reservoir. The speed of the circumference of the rotating disc being about six miles per minute, a point on that circumference must have travelled in the course of the 150 days almost five and one-half times the distance from the earth to the moon.

HUNT CLUB SPORTS A GREAT SUCCESS

GYMKHANA SIGNALIZED
OPENING OF SEASON

Accident to Billie Williams Only Marring Feature—Track in Fine Condition

For those devotees of horse racing, who like to take their sport quietly and deem the clamour and dust attendant at the usual race meet an unnecessary factor, the Willows track Saturday afternoon was an ideal sport. The occasion was the gymkhana which signalled the opening of the Hunt Club season, and a more perfect blend of amusement and excitement would be hard to find anywhere. Everything combined to make towards a most pleasurable afternoon for the fairly large number of people present, among whom were many of Victoria's elite. The track was in beautiful condition, the Fifth Regiment band's rendition of selections from some of those greatest masters, beyond criticism, and the refreshments served by the ladies very tasty.

One accident occurred towards the beginning to mar the sport. Billie Williams, one of Victoria's truest sportsmen, who was competing in the Victoria Stakes was thrown from his horse and sustained a nasty cut on the head by striking a post as he fell. The horse, when coming down the track towards the starting point, had swerved and made for the gateway, across which extended one bar. Naturally he stopped very suddenly on encountering the bar and unseated his rider. Mr. Williams' injuries had a serious look, but on examination were found not to be dangerous. He was taken to the hospital in an automobile.

Several amusing incidents enlivened the afternoon's entertainment and served to banish from the minds of the equestrians the disagreeable effects produced by the accident to Mr. Williams. For instance, in the Victoria Cross race, in which competitors were supposed to jump a hurdle, ride about 50 yards, pick up a dummy and return. The horses leaped the hurdle in a bunch and so intent were the riders on reaching the dummies as quickly as possible that only one of them made any effort to leap the obstruction, but instead rode through it with the utmost abandon. And when the dummies were reached the attempts of several of the riders to remount their steeds with what was apparently meant to represent a wounded soldier or something of that kind clasped by the ankle under one arm were laughable indeed.

Some very good riding, however, and also fine driving was witnessed. In the jumping competition for horses the exhibitions given by Mrs. Cox and E. Henderson were well worth seeing. The competition between the two was exceedingly keen, but, after clearing every hurdle in splendid style on her first attempt, Mrs. Cox was unfortunate in knocking down a bar in her second time over the course and, as Mr. Henderson negotiated his trips faultlessly, the first prize was awarded to him.

Mrs. Cox won first in the driving competition, successfully driving between blocks of wood placed the bare width of the carriage apart, the stipulated number of times without overturning a block.

The gymkhana concluded with a menagerie race in which a bull and a varied assortment of dogs were entered. The bull ran a spirited race, but was just beaten out of third place by a small fox terrier.

The prizes presented, consisting of cups and silver knick-knacks of various kinds, were very handsome.

The officials were: Judges W. H. Mead and F. L. Crawford; starter, Capt. J. Fortescue Foulkes, C. P. A. C.; and A. J. Dallan; stewards, Lieut. Col. Currie and G. A. Kirk. The results follow:

Victoria Stakes—1, Mr. Butler and R. Crawford; 2, R. W. Morton and Miss Warren.

FAIRBANKS, ALASKA, SEPT. 30.—The 14 miners who have been imprisoned in the Shakespear gold mine on Dome creek since last Wednesday are alive, well and cheerful, but will be locked in their dungeons three days longer.

Last night the Keystone drill sunk from the surface of the ground broke through into the drift in which the men are confined and food, drink, underclothing, matches, candles, tobacco, and newspapers were lowered through the six inches to the captives. Except for their cramped quarters the men are snug and comfortable, their room being heated by the pipe that was used in thawing the gravel.

For 75 feet from the surface the collapsed shaft has been cleared, but the rescuers have nearly 100 feet more to excavate. The second rescue party, which is moving through an old drift entered from an abandoned shaft 600 feet from the new shaft, have advanced 100 feet toward the miners. The roof of the drift has settled, however, and much digging is necessary. The ground, which is alluvial gravel, is frozen hard.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 2.—In an address delivered before the public lands convention here former Secretary of the Interior Richard A. JOHN DAY IS FOUND GUILTY OF CHARGEBULLOCK IDENTIFIED AS TORONTO FORGER*First of Navy Yard Trials Completed—Saturday—Sentence Handed Down To-day

John Day, charged with receiving candles and paint to the value of $470 the property of the naval authorities knowing the same to have been stolen, was on Saturday night found guilty by Judge Lampman of receiving twelve boxes of candles of the value of $54, and was remanded for sentence till this morning without bail.

In arguments presented before judgment was given Mr. Henderson, for the accused, held that there is a conflict between the naval law and the Canadian criminal code owing to which there should be no offence charged against Day. Reid, the navy witness who was brought back from England to give evidence against Day, could not, said Mr. Henderson, be tried by a civil court unless the naval authorities turned him over; and he held that if Reid cannot be indicted by the criminal code here, then no case could be held against Day.

From Mr. Henderson's frequent objections to evidence and his requests that his objections be noted by the court stenographer, there is no doubt but the conviction will be appealed by the lawyers for the convicted man. At the close of the trial, however, Mr. Henderson asked for a reserved case and was refused.

The trial was adjourned Tuesday Sept. 19, for the appearance of Inspector W. R. Davis, of the Toronto police department, who was the first witness called Saturday afternoon. He swore that he knew the Crown witness, Frederick Bullock, in Toronto 25 years ago. In January 1887 Bullock had been convicted for forgery of a cheque for $200 and sentenced to two years imprisonment, which he served. He was sentenced under the name of Alfred Bullock. The witness identified Bullock positively and also said that since his arrival here last Wednesday Bullock had accosted him outside the Dominion hotel and asked him not to identify him positively, as he was trying to live down his past. Bullock had said to him, "Billy I know what you are here for. For God's sake don't identify me positively. Tom Davis couldn't be identified."

Inspector Davis had replied that he had never committed perjury in his life and he did not intend to begin. Bullock had been known to him in Toronto as Alfred Bullock, although he called himself Alfred when convicted. After serving his sentence he had been engaged in a rag carpet business on Queen street, Toronto, and if he stated under oath that he had never been in Toronto for more than three months at a time he was not telling the truth. Bullock was sitting in court and the inspector positively identified him with the Alfred Bullock convicted and sentenced to two years for forgery.

In cross examination he said that although he had not seen Bullock for many years he had no doubt about his identity. If there had been a doubt Bullock would have the benefit of it.

The defence called F. W. Buck, boatman of Esquimalt who took over the launching business of the accused. Buck said he had received orders from Day to deliver certain paint and candles to Victoria Machinery Depot, but the consignments contained no candle boxes like those in court—with the yellow mark, nor were the paint tins similar to those in court. Day had not applied to him for half the customs bond Day had paid.

George Henshall a crown witness was called again by the prosecution in regard to a statement he had signed in the office of the B. C. Marine Railway company. The boy said he had signed the statement in which he is claimed to admit he knew nothing of navy stores going into the Victoria Machinery depot, because he was glad to get out of the office. He was afraid at the time of losing his position if he had not signed it. There had been four men there who formed the questions written in the statement. He was there about two hours. It was on May 19th. He had mentioned something about paint and candles going into the Machinery Depot store room and they had told him they did not want to hear anything about that.

In rebuttal the crown called Lieut. Hodgson, who produced a box of candles obtained by him from the Imperial Oil company. These were placed by the navy candles in court and were found to be different in size and manufacture, and were the same as that produced in court by the witness Campousa during the trial. Mr. Henderson opened his argument by continuing his contention that unless an indictment had been brought against Reid by the naval authorities Day could not be found guilty of receiving under the Canada criminal code. Judge Lampman ruled against him saying he construed the section 8 of the criminal code as meaning to prevent interference by civil authorities with the naval authorities in dealing with the administration of naval laws. Mr. Henderson argued that the evidence of Reid was unsupported by books which could have been produced but which are in England, and that Bullock's evidence was not worthy of belief as that witness had committed deliberate perjury.

Mr. Alkman held that the evidence of both Bullock and Reid had been supported by other witnesses, and Day had produced no evidence to show he came honestly by the candles, and the books of Auctioneer Williams who has sold for the Admiralty at naval sales did not show any sales to Day. Judge Lampman held that the evidence of Bullock was discredited and should be treated with suspicion. It had however been corroborated by other witnesses who appeared perfectly fair. He could find no motive for Reid committing perjury and his evidence had been supported also by other witnesses. He found the accused guilty of receiving twelve boxes of candles knowing them to have been stolen.

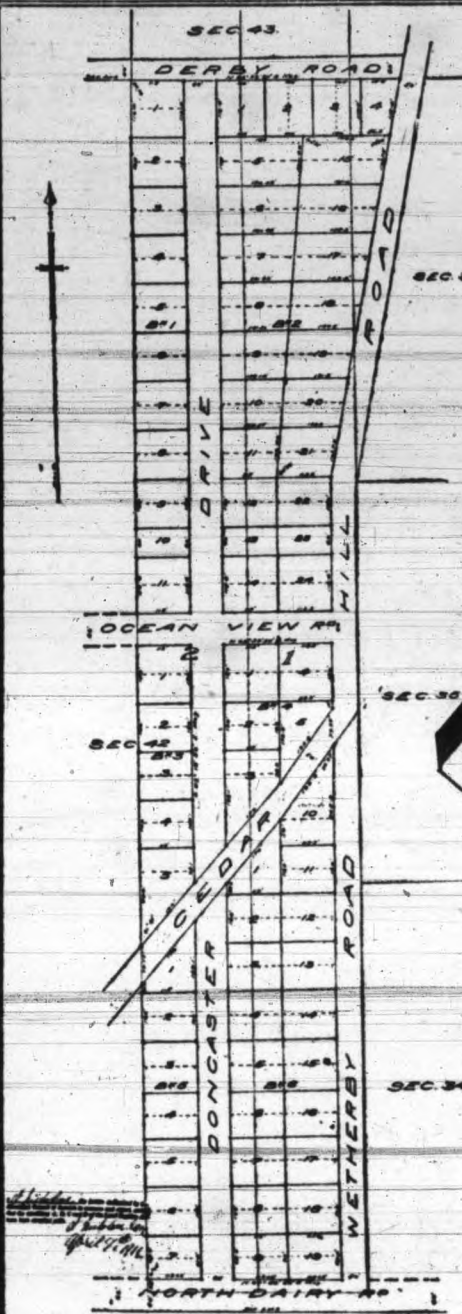

An application by Mr. Henderson for a reserved case on several grounds was refused.

ernment taxation was the opinion expressed by Hon. F. L. Carter-Cotton at Saturday's sitting of the commission on taxation. Mr. Carter-Cotton favored the abolition of the revenue or poll tax and the tax on personal property. The former he described as an "abominable" tax, and the latter as a "tax wasting the actual capital of property owners."

"Former commissions appointed by the government had a different work to perform than this one," commented Mr. Carter-Cotton. "Other taxation commissions were appointed to see in what way the government could best raise money without pressing too heavily on the people. Your duty is to report on modifications to existing legislation that may be deemed necessary. I appreciate that it is a very large question."

"I may say of the revenue or poll tax that I consider it an abominable tax, and I think it should be repealed. The system when it was first put in operation was very different from that of today."

Mr. Carter-Cotton then related how the poll tax had been first imposed by the government at the time of the Cariboo gold rush, when it had been absolutely necessary for the government to levy such a tax upon the floating population in order that roads might be constructed through to the gold country.

"The poll tax is one that at the present state of the development of the province should be done away with," added Mr. Carter-Cotton. "It is not fair or equitable, nor do I know of any other part of the British empire where it is imposed. The manner of collecting this tax is also objectionable."

BALLARD MILL DESTROYED.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 2.—Fire destroyed the Phoenix mill in Ballard Friday night, causing a loss of $40,000. The mill is owned by William and Jas. L. Batley. The fire caused a general alarm on account of the valuable properties adjoining. The absence of wind aided the fire department in confining the fire, which was under control early this morning.

A French doctor, M. V. Fischer, advocates a complete reversal of the present method of making up beds. You must have your head on a level with, or lower than, your feet. If pillows are to be used, they must be under the feet instead of the head. The result, he claims, will be amazing, being a sure cure for insomnia as well as a preventive of the night-mare.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF TELEPHONES

New Westminster Board of Trade Will Confer With Other Bodies in District

New Westminster, Sept. 30.—That government ownership of a telephone system throughout the province would be a desirable state of affairs was the firm opinion of the New Westminster board of trade, and at the regular meeting two delegates were appointed to act with delegates from other boards of trade throughout the district. The matter was brought up by two delegates from the South Vancouver board of trade, Messrs. Harrison and Elliott. In South Vancouver, it was pointed out, the district was divided into sections, and subscribers were compelled to pay an extra toll to converse with the other sections of South Vancouver and with Vancouver city. Numerous complaints have been received from other municipalities, and it was considered advisable to appoint a committee to gather information and see if any improvement could be obtained. Vice president Goulet and Mr. A. W. McLeod, chairman of the committee, were appointed to act as a special committee.

Messrs. Small, Richardson and Luby were appointed a special committee to attend the session of the Provincial Tax Commission, which sits in this city October 2.

In order to hasten the work of dredging the Fraser river, the navigation committee have been requested to compile a comprehensive report of the condition of affairs in the river. They will be empowered to incur a reasonable expense, and will seek the assistance of the government tug. They will also secure the assistance of an engineer. The information will be placed in the hands of J. D. Taylor, the member-elect for the Federal House, before he leaves for the re-assembling of parliament.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

S. J. Kelly, Young Apprentice, Instantly Killed While Operating a Freight Elevator.

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—S. J. Kelly, a 16-year-old boy, was almost instantly killed while operating a freight elevator at Messrs. Barr & Anderson's plumbing establishment, 114 Hastings street west. The boy, who had been in the firm's employ as an apprentice for about two weeks, was caught in the rising elevator and crushed to death between the elevator and the protective railing.

It appears that he was standing on the edge of the shaft pulling the operating rope when, from all appearances, he fainted and fell partly inside the shaft. Half a dozen employees witnessed the accident and made prompt efforts to save him, but could not. Dr. Ford was called, but life was extinct before he arrived on the scene.

VANCOUVER ASSIZES.

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—Unless there is an epidemic of crime between the date of writing and October 9, this fall's criminal assize will be a comparatively light one. Last spring there were six indictments for murder. At the coming assize there are about two cases, although there are two other capital charges. One of the two men who will face the murder charge is John T. Cancell, an old man, who is alleged to have figured in the tragedy in Hastings townsite on June 29. He is charged with shooting a logger. A Japanese by the name of Ishii is also charged with murder. He is said to have killed another Japanese in the neighborhood of Port Essington.

The list of cases which will be heard at the assize is as follows: Robert Allan, forger and false pretences; Z. P. Lew, procuring; Ello Pilate, shooting with intent; Ed. Rogers, attempt to steal; R. Hoolie, alias Oly, rape; Henry McLean, wounding; Homer Woods, attempt at suicide; John T. Cancell, murder; Nanagaki, attempted rape; Ishii, murder; Mu Hing, procuring; Faithful et al., rape; Sticking, assault.

POISON SELF-ADMINISTERED.

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—That the deceased died by poison administered by his own hand was the verdict of the jury inquiring into the death of Albert William Johnson, who was found dead in his room at the Columbia hotel last Wednesday afternoon. The jury also brought in a rider calling the attention of the police authorities to the indiscriminate sale of poison by druggists.

EASTERN SYNDICATE PURCHASES MINE

Deal of Importance for Revelstoke and District Involves $400,000

Revelstoke, Sept. 30.—A mining deal of considerable importance to this district and involving a sum in the neighborhood of $400,000, has just been completed, by means of which the famous True Fissure group at Ferguson, B. C., passes into the hands of an eastern syndicate. The deal was negotiated by Angus W. Mishaw of Cincinnati, representing the True Fissure Mining Company, of which W. L. Briggs of this city is attorney. The syndicate who is taking over the property has made a substantial first payment, and intends to put a force of men to work to make extensive developments.

News has been received in the city that a rich strike has been made on the Chance mineral claim in the far-distant by David Morgan. This property is an extension of the Triane mine to the south, and lies in the same belt as the Silver Cup mine. During the spring and summer Mr. Morgan has been engaged in driving a tunnel to tap a rich vein of grey copper. In the last drift from the face of the tunnel he struck six inches of high-grade ore in three feet, and the indications point to the vein extending as the depth is attained. The drift to the west of the face of the tunnel will also be extended to cross-cut a vein that is seen on the surface, but is showing a westerly dip in the mountain. The surface ore has given returns of 200 ounces of silver and $1 in gold in one assay, while the lower vein has given returns of about 400 ounces to the ton.

FIRE ACCIDENTAL.

Vernon, Sept. 30.—The inquiry into the fire at the Victoria hotel, held before Mayor Husband and a jury, terminated on Friday. When Jas. Trotter was again examined. This time he confessed that he had occupied the room in question, and had set fire to the bedding by ashes from his pipe or cigarette. He then escaped by the window, and afterwards re-entered the hotel and got another room. The jury brought in the following verdict: "In re inquiry into the cause of the fire at the Victoria hotel on August 27, which inquiry in our opinion was entirely justified, it is the opinion of the jury that the fire was of purely accidental origin, and we recommend that the license commission examine into and find out if the hotel and premises of the Victoria hotel complies with the regulations required by law as to precautions against fire and the general safety of the guests. We should also like to voice our appreciation of the prompt act of Mr. Buchanan in extinguishing at its inception a fire which might have had very serious consequences."

FALLS TO HIS DEATH.

Vancouver, Sept. 30.—Pedestrians near the corner of Hastings and Main streets were startled by hearing a loud scream, coming apparently from over their heads, and on looking up were horrified to see a man miss his footing while working on the fifth story of the new Dawson building and fall head foremost to the ground, 70 feet below.

Men in the vicinity and employees on the building ran up to the scene of the accident. The unfortunate man was identified as a laborer, Thomas Knutson, of 207 Pender street east, who had been employed on the building for about seven weeks. He was taken into Dr. W. A. McTavish's office, where it was found that he had sustained a fractured skull, a broken leg, and several broken ribs, while the body was a mass of bruises. He was removed to St. Paul's hospital, where he expired twenty minutes later.

None of the employees of the building witnessed the accident. All that is known is that Knutson was engaged in taking down some scaffolding very close to the outer wall of the structure.

WORK ON THE V. V. & E.

Princeton, Sept. 30.—Tracklaying on the V. V. & E. is progressing as well as could be expected through the amean canyons, where a succession of crabs bridges across the river retards the railroad. About five miles of steel are now laid. Much difficulty is found in construction of false work, the piles striking bedrock, too soon to hold. It is not probable steel will reach Coalmont before November.

As soon as the bridge are laid, five between Princeton and Coalmont, 14 miles the bridge gang will tackle the spur bridge over the Similkameen, just west of Maplehurst. The B. C. Cement Company will have the grade ready for the bridge.

Although no confirmation can be obtained officially, there is good ground for the general belief that the Kettle Valley line will parallel the V. V. & E. down Otter valley and the Tulameen river to Princeton. It seems there is some insurmountable difficulty in following the original survey from Aspen Grove across country direct to Okanagan lake.

KOOTENAY GROWERS' UNION.

Nelson, Sept. 30.—R. T. Hicks, manager of James Johnston's ranch, has been appointed permanent manager of the Kootenay Growers' Union. During the summer the union marketed about $6,000 worth of small fruits. The prices received for strawberries were considered good, the average net return to the union being $2.25 per crate. Higher prices were realized for shipments from some growers for exceptionally high grade consignments. The union now has a membership of 150. There were sixty-eight shipments of small fruit during the past season.

CHINESE IMMIGRANTS UNDER NEW CONTROL

Transfer to Interior Department Effective To-day—Medical Inspector Here

Among the visitors to the city are P. H. Bryce, M. D., medical inspector of immigration for the Dominion, and L. M. Fortier, chief clerk in the department of immigration.

Their visit coincides with the taking over of the work of Chinese immigration by the department of the interior (immigration branch) from the department of trade and customs, and from this date Dr. Bryce therefore becomes charged with the local control at this port, and it is in connection with the transfer that the present trip is largely made.

Dr. Bryce is specially pleased with the excellent arrangements made for handling immigrants at the outer wharf, and says the building is among the best in Canada. He told a Times representative this morning that the work of the department is going along smoothly so far as the medical inspection section of which he has charge, is concerned, and that the better health of immigrants is shown in the reduction of examination work at the Atlantic and Pacific ports. Very few have to be rejected, thereby showing that the country is attracting a better class of people.

Of the three hundred thousand admitted during the last fiscal year only 35 had to be deported for consumption, and about one hundred as imbeciles, those figures of course including those who have developed the disease during the three years in which deportation is possible. The doctor thinks some scheme should be devised to keep track of passengers returning to Canada who have clearly appearances of some disease which, while they cannot be indefinitely detained at the quarantine stations may develop it after a time, and become a menace to society. They cannot be prevented from entering the country as returning immigrants, but some scheme should be devised to keep track of them, which should be notified to the provincial boards of health of the province where they intend to reside, and give the provincial officers a chance to keep track of them. He had particular reference to the Chinese, whose conditions of life were undoubtedly worse in China than in Canada, and the large number of cases of disease in their trail.

The department was very anxious to deal fairly by families which had one imbecile child, dependent on the parents, for in many cases Canada might secure a large family of industrious persons by taking that one in under due supervision, and have regard to its history. They also did not wish to prevent the admission of consumptive patients if it could be shown they would not become dependent on public funds but there were few cases of this character, and the most of the unfortunate persons afflicted in this way were kept back through the activities of the officials of the Canadian government at the European ports.

The doctor is a prominent authority on every phase of the public health and has contributed largely to medical literature during the time he was executive health officer for Ontario, before he was appointed to his present responsible position.

STARTS KITCHEN FIRE.

Automatic Device Ignites Kindling at Hour Desired.

An automatic device for lighting the fire in the kitchen range before anyone comes downstairs has been invented by an Indiana man. On a support running out from the bottom of the stove an arm, holding a bunch of matches in one end, is set up so that the matches are held close to the paper under the kindling, the door of the stove being open. A trigger arrangement sets the matches afire and they in turn ignite the kindling and by that time the apparatus has run down so that the match-holding arm is sprung back out of the way and the stove door closes automatically. This leaves the fire burning merrily with the proper draught on so that by the time the cook or housewife arrives in the kitchen the range will be ready for use, thereby saving so much time. The whole device is operated by means of an alarm clock, which can be set to start the fire at any hour desired.

CONDUCTOR IS KILLED.

San Bernardino, Cal., Oct. 2.—Elmer A. Boyd, conductor of the westbound Santa Fe, was killed to-day when his train crashed head-on into a train of eastbound empty passenger cars at Crozier, Ariz., 38 miles east of Needles. Edward Deshane, engineer of the limited, was seriously injured. No passengers were hurt.

Portuguese has not always been called Portugal. It was formerly Lusitania. This present name is derived from Porto Callo, the ancient name of the town now known to us as Oporto.

BRINGS MANY PEOPLE SOUTH FROM RUPERT

Prince Rupert Arrives in Port With Big Passenger List—
Sails North Again To-day

Experiencing excellent weather throughout her last northern trip, the Grand Trunk Pacific steamer Prince Rupert (Capt. Barney Johnson), arrived in port yesterday morning from Prince Rupert. The vessel encountered practically no fog at all and the passage was a most pleasant one for the passengers. The Rupert brought south one hundred and three cabin, and seventy-five second class passengers, many of whom disembarked at this port.

Among those who came south was Duncan McTavish, accompanied by his bride, Miss McTavish, and Miss Morley. Mr. McTavish went north last Monday on the Rupert and was married in Prince Rupert to Miss Emily Lyle Craig. John T. Williams, Dominion fisheries inspector, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Smith, Blake Wilson, travelling manager for Pat Burns & Co., accompanied by Mrs. Wilson; R. P. Brutinel, manager of the Prince Rupert Hydraulic Electric Co., and Mr. Hayward, engineer of the same company, also came south on the Rupert. This morning the big coasting steamer got away for the north with a large crowd of passengers and a full cargo of general freight. The local passengers were as follows: William Henderson, of the public works department; Fred Brown, commercial traveller for Radiger and Jackson; T. Haughton, S. H. Reynolds, J. R. Stewart, H. T. Tuff, W. G. Pender, R. Lowe, R. A. McDonald, W. Yee, J. A. Barf and Mr. Ernst.

At this port the steamer loaded about fifty tons of freight, including general merchandise. At Seattle she took on an equal amount of cargo and at Vancouver there is about one hundred and fifty tons awaiting shipment by her to the north.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Bellevue, Wis., Oct. 2.—Harvey Pond, of this city, foreman of a logging camp for the Alger Shingle Company, near Park, was accidentally shot and almost instantly killed by Ernest Boyd, the company's bookkeeper, while on duty last Saturday. Boyd's story is that he slipped while stepping over a water-soaked log, and the gun which he carried, dropped and was discharged, sending a load of No. 4 shot into Pond's abdomen. Pond leaves a wife and five children.

SWEDISH CABINET DESIGNS.

Stockholm, Oct. 2.—The Swedish cabinet headed by Premier Lindman, resigned to-day. The ministers tendered their resignations to the king because the general election resulted adversely to the government.

TALK AND BARGAINS

TALK IS CHEAP. To make it effective it needs the goods to back it up. When we talk of our bargains we do so secure in the knowledge that we have the goods to back up our statements. This leads up to the fact that we are offering bargains in home furniture that speak for themselves. We are showing good goods at real bargain prices. Reason: We need the room for the builders to work in. Our necessity is your opportunity. The wise see opportunities and take advantage of them. Come to-day and see what we offer you.

AFRAID

The Man Who Never Ventures Never Wins

No doubt the sceptical individual always has a neighbor who always seems thrifty and prosperous.

He is a man who has made money from investments, always seems ready and willing to take the chance with the expectation of big returns, preferring as of course the investment in which there is the greatest degree of stability.

He is an aggressive, active man—the man who views every proposition from the optimistic point of view rather than as a pessimist.

He believes in British Columbia. He has faith and confidence in the resources of the province.

He knows that in order to progress you must build up the country, develop her resources, people her valleys, manufacture into marketable lumber trees of the forest, and open up the great coal fields supplying the markets of the world with fuel.

The man who is afraid never amounts to much.

His fear is mistaken by himself for the moment for shrewdness and caution, until in many instances too late, and the good things have gone by.

It is then that he plunges and sinks his capital in wild cats and into last chance propositions.

COAL

British Columbia's Greatest Natural Resource

The output of coal in British Columbia, which is of the utmost importance, is not increasing as rapidly as the market demands.

These demands are increasing yearly in excess of the supply, thereby maintaining regular prices with occasional advances, so that if the output goes on increasing rapidly for many years to come it will still find a ready market.

Although British Columbia has within her boundaries more acres of profitable coal lands than any other similar area of country elsewhere in the world, yet unfortunately through the limited transportation facilities it is impossible to operate but a very small portion of the same and only such properties as are very close to a main line railway or front on navigable river or salt water harbor, is it possible to mine at a profit.

By investing money in the coal areas of British Columbia at ground floor prices, the investor is certain of success, since coal is assuredly identified with the success of the country, and all those who are associated therewith will enjoy a similar degree of prosperity.

A nation's welfare depends upon her coal supply, and the coal supply depends upon the operating coal mines and the transportation facilities.

The supply of coal mined to-day in British Columbia is limited.

The greatest business opportunity of the world is open to the men of to-day who will set about putting more coal on the market.

An opportunity is now given the investor to become identified with what is destined to be one of the active shipping coal mines of British Columbia.

The American-Canadian Coal Company owns a vast coal acreage at the upper end of Graham Island, near Masset Inlet, in which there are five known seams of coal; the two largest of which, respectively 12 ft. and 6 ft., are estimated to contain 27,000,000 tons of coal.

Trustee Capt. Wilbur Johnston is now offering a limited block of stock in The American-Canadian Coal Co., Ltd., at the ground floor price of 20c per share.

The terms of sale are: 10c per share with the application, balance in two equal monthly instalments. No application for less than 100 shares.

This block of stock is being rapidly subscribed for, and you must not delay if you desire to avail yourself of this opportunity.

Those residing at a distance should immediately write to the office of the Trustee, and make reservation of this block before the next advance in price.

Remember, it will only be a short time now before the next block of stock will be placed upon the market to be sold at 25c or 30c per share.

Call at the office of the Trustee for full particulars.

View the maps and plans. Read the Engineer's report, and see the exact reproduction of the islands of coal fronting along the foreshore of the property and extending almost as far as the eye can reach.

Remember, the man who is afraid never wins.

To Make Money You Must Invest

Address your applications and make your cheques payable to the order of Wilbur Johnston, Trustee, whose office is situated at 604 Broughton St., Victoria, B.C., and is open to 9 p.m. daily

For the HOME DRESSMAKER

HOW SEPARATE SILK BLOUSES ARE TRIMMED

THE separate blouse has become an institution in the great world of dress. It has long been an American pet; and, indeed, Paris designers have averred that it is to the well-dressed American's demands that we owe the importance of the blouse.

At any rate, separate blouses come and go, but we are always treated to attractive forms at each new season. The very latest are here before you. They are of supple silks, such as crepe de chine, soft taffeta, changeable weaves and liberty satin. They show the vogue for buttons and the trimming of hemstitched sheer fabrics, mousseline de soie being the most favored.

The question of how to trim the separate silk blouse to be worn with tailored suits or skirts, then, is answered in emphatic style. Look at these Parisian models. Every one is a stunning exploitation of good line, modish trimming and a charming simplicity.

A chic addition of a collar and double jabot of hemstitched handkerchief linen is made to the blouse at the left. It is of navy blue supple taffeta. It is fastened at the back, and the collar, rounded at the back and pointed over each shoulder, is fastened under the double ruffle in front. A broad panel is folded in front, with taffeta buttons in groups of three outlining each edge. Kimono sleeves show turned-back circular cuffs trimmed with buttons. This is a good model for a growing girl from 14 to 16 years old.

Next is a crepe de chine blouse with a graduated panel in front. From the upper part of this there extend revers attached and ending in a square collar at the back. There are cuffs on these sleeves also. Buttons are placed in a straight line down the front, with double loops of silk cord. There is a sheer tulle yoke, cut - - - Pleats at the armhole give fullness over the bust.

White silk crepe is shown in the central model. Here we have a revival of the broad pleats over the shoulders, which we called the Gibson pleats. In this new blouse they are slanted in on the bias. A small collar of mousseline de soie is hemstitched and trims the top. A double line of white silk crocheted buttons decorate the front, silk cord carrying out the military idea. Cuffs are stiffened over heavy muslin and turned back and button trimmed.

If you would be very up-to-date, have the color of the blouse the same as that of the suit.

The fourth of the line shows a silk blouse with adjustable collar and cuffs of fine batiste. There is an attractive side fastening under buttons and cords. A hand-tucked batiste guimpe is worn with this liberty silk bodice.

Last is a white satin blouse with a collar of unique cut. Mousseline de soie is hemstitched and cut in a double lapped form of a round collar with points at the front. Two pleats on each side of the front give fullness. White buttons and black velvet ribbon form the trimming on the box pleat in the center. A yoke and collar of white mousseline finish the pretty model.

From this group many suggestions are to be gathered by the experienced and the amateur.

It is never too late to begin to be well dressed, you know. These blouses will show you how easy it is.

VARIATIONS OF THE HOOD

A COLLAR ON THE HOOD

POINTED WITH WINGS

A DRAPED EFFECT

THE monk's hood has come back to us in new expressions of the "capuchin" idea. It is on short jackets and long coats, on light lace wraps or on heavy blanket coats. It is the feature of this season and is one of the points to be emphasized in making an outer garment.

In the hood with the wings the heavy blue cloth is lined with black-and-white silk. A deep-pointed hood is folded so that the cloth is seamed for six or eight inches. From this point the material is folded out again, the points being weighted with chenille balls. This hood forms deep revers in front. It is particularly effective on a coat of heavy cloth made with an empire waist line.

On the herringbone weave in gray tweed there is applied light blue cloth.

This line the pointed hood, which folds out into a rounded collar on each side. A broad circular collar decorates the front. The light blue cloth is inset on this in an effective way.

The hood on the other mixed suitings is lined with striped silk. The large loose shape is draped up at the center of the back and over the shoulders—a new idea.

Some hoods are really useful, especially on motor coats or steamer ulsters. They are made to cover the head and to button securely around the throat. Others are ornamental and the rest are both.

Hoods will be worn on evening capes and wraps, on short-cloth jackets of tailored suits and on long separate coats. They can be applied with little difficulty by the home dressmaker. Try one just for a change.

Longer Skirts

THE afternoon frock shows skirts just a little longer than we had in the summer. The innovation is to be greeted with joy, for the foot must be attractively shod and of the daintiest proportions to withstand the shortness of the scant skirt that will ride up when the wearer is seated.

So longer skirts—and just a little fuller if you would heed the mandate.

French Fashion Notes

PARIS, Sept. 20.

IT IS a point in question these days whether the gown or the accessories claim importance in a scheme. On one chic model there will be nothing except stitching on the edge of revers, tunic and cuffs. On another there will be frills of lace, rows of buttons, panels of braid and embroidery, and so on, until the original gown is lost under the trimming. It is indeed hard to choose between the two opposite types of dress. So the Parisienne takes both in her charming little way.

Changeable effects have for weeks been the color scheme. The changeable mousseline de soie is now in the field and is exceptionally lovely for evening gowns.

Dresses of tulle and silk mull with flowered borders are charming for debutante frocks.

Old gold is one of the favorite colors for evening. The embroidery in beads still holds its prominent place in the decorative world.

For afternoon wear there is an astonishing favoritism accorded to charmeuse. It is the silk used for suits, dresses of all types and in all colors.

The fall hat is of black velvet. One seen at Rumpelmayer's tearoom was a large, oval shape with a huge bow of copper-colored liberty satin.

Many black hats are trimmed in white immense crowns, bands and bows of white tulle or maline are used.

White tulle is to be used extensively for blouses, chemisettes and entire gowns.

For suits, braid, buttons, black velvet and fur will be the trimming.

A decided vogue for black velvet and dark navy blue velvet is noticeable.

Especially are there stunning suits made of these two fabrics.

On some tailored suits there are revers and collars in white or gray colors.

Can you picture a lovely evening gown in orange-colored mousseline de soie over pale blue satin? The bodice and tunic were embroidered in silver beads and a fringe of silver edged the sleeves, tunic and sash.

Buttons are much used on blouses. Black velvet is the favored kind. Indeed, the trimming of black, whether it be black net, velvet or satin, is the drier and undeniably chic.

The Watteau pleat is a feature on negligees or tea gowns.

One enterprising designer has heeded the cry of the "pocketless sex" and has supplied us with a pocket at a very unexpected place, to be sure. He has turned up the end of a sash or panel into an amouliere and we are happy.

The hat of panned dimensions shows masses of gorgeous plumes placed over the crown. A fringe of fur is used to edge the shape. Despite the favoritism shown to the "petit chapeau," we shall always love the large plumed hat. We know when we look well.

EDNA WALLACE HOPPER'S NEW GOWNS.

The new gowns worn by Edna Wallace Hopper in "Jumping Jupiter" were of especial interest to all feminine theatregoers, as they represent the very latest thing in advanced fashions.
They were designed by Lady Duff-Gordon and executed by Lucille, Ltd., from which house comes the following detailed description:

The gown worn in the first act by Miss Hopper is a man of course charmeuse almost covered with a tunk of purple chiffon, embroidered all over in purple and gold, the waist being of chiffon embroidered likewise, with elaborate lace covered with blue ribbon inserted; this being partially buried under the waist adds greatly in softening the tone of the same. Old gold gauze and purple form the cin-ture, and to finish this is one large purple and cerise tassel. This gown is tipped off with an elaborate turban
of old gold and a flash of purple.

A gown worn in the second act is also purple but appears to be a ball of silver, for it is literally covered with bugles. The under-vest part and skirt has trails of pink roses and lace; the bottom of this skirt being all of crystal embroidery over purple, which forms a beautiful combination. On one side the skirt is caught with dainty ornaments also made of bugle and rhinestones. The bottom of the skirt is finished with fringe, and to make the final touch is an elaborate circle made of turquoise blue and silver. Worn with this is a dainty but elaborate crystal embroidered net cap.

The third gown is most charming,
being made of soft and sumple white satin. The upper part of the waist is made of insertion and ribbon thread-ings. The skirt has the effect of being in lines, and is edged with one band of elaborate gold embroidery.
This is finished with a quaint sash
which is made of blush pink Ninon, embroidered in old gold and bouquet of dainty hand made flowers in pastel shades. With this is worn a purple chiffon coat and quaint taffeta hat trimmed with dainty lace and flowers.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

"And all the while their acquaintances look on in stupor, and ask each other with almost passionate emphasis, what so-and-so can see in that woman, or such-an-one in that man.
I am sure, gentlemen, I cannot tell you."—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Molly, the little stenographer lady,
had just read in the evening paper that Mr. So-and-So was going to marry Mrs. So-and-So and had promptly justified Mr. Stevenson's description by exclaiming, with almost passionate emphasis, that she didn't see how such a nice man as he could possibly like that girl.

The wants-to-be-cynic reached for the paper and scrutinized the item "Mr. So-and-So." He muttered, thoughtfully, "wasn't he an old flame of yours, Molly?"
"He was not," retorted Molly with flaming cheeks. "That's just like you men. You can never believe anything we say is impersonal.
I never met him more than once or twice, just enough to know that he had perfect manners, and didn't (with pointed emphasis) take every opportunity to say disagreeable things. It wasn't wholly that I wondered that he should marry her, but that anyone should."

"Why, don't you think she's the kind of a girl a man likes?" queried
the lady-who-always-knows-somehow pacifically.
"Mercy, no," said Molly, "she's a perfect little cat, and she's always talking Tolstol, Browning, or something highbrow like that. And she wears wollen stockings."

"That, of course, would damn her forever," murmured the wants-to-becynic sotto voce. "Either Molly didn't hear or she was not in a mood for further battles, for she refused to take up the gage."

"Men don't mind cats, do they?"
suggested the butterfly, "as long as they are cats only to other women,
but kittens to them?"

"Well, what kind of a girl do men like anyway?" asked the lady-who-always-knows-somehow.

"A girl with spirit," declared the wants-to-be-cynic, "a girl who is interested, alive and always ready for fun."

"A girl that's thoroughly silly," sniffed Molly, "and doesn't annoy men
by pretending to know something."

"The girl who is always respectful to her father and mother, doesn't wear ultra clothes, likes to be outdoors and likes children," described the man-who-thinks.

"Always to me," said the lady-who-always-knows-somehow, "that we got some pretty good suggestions about the kind of a man a woman likes,
when Ruth asked her reader friends about it. Suppose we get her to ask them about this."

Will my reader friends please again consider themselves appealed to for their points of view?

Our symposium on the kind of a man a woman likes was most interesting.

Let's have another on the kind of a woman a man likes.

Please remember, as close to a hundred words as possible, and please don't generalize too much. Think of the girl you like and tell us what qualities made you like her.

That's the kind of thing that really means something, to quote my beloved Stevenson just once more: "There is probably nothing rightly thought or rightly written on this matter of love that is not a piece of the person's experience."

EMPIRE THEATRE

The headline act for the week at the Empire theatre is Mabel Brewster and the Amsterdam quartette. This quintette of vocalists have been winning much praise across the continent and the western cities have received them the same way giving them a heartily welcome after their first appearance. The act they play is a woodland light opera entitled, "In Love," with scenery designed for the act and brought from New York.

The magical Harry Roulton has added crooked magic to his straight magic and is to give a double show of both kinds to-day. Moey and Mozar whose songs and dances will always be remembered are opening here to-day again; J. Frank Burke and company are appearing in a womanless sketch written by Melville W. Brown, and a dancing act by Freeman and Dunham is the fifth act for this week. The Empresscope will deliver pictures as usual.

"On a Tramp Steamer" is a leading feature on the new bill. We have here a story of treachery in which one man helps another and is repaid by duplicitly and an attempt to separate him from his sweetheart. The steamer upon which these men are employed is wrecked. The villain escapes with the crew, leaving the other alone on the steamer. He goes back, tells the girl her sweetheart is lost, and tries to induce her to marry him. But the other man arrives in time to prevent

ENGLISH MAIDENS ARE AFTER GREEN

Proposals of Marriage Made to Son of Richest Woman

If the American girls don't watch out they will lose their most eligible multi-millionaire bachelor to a foreign woman, for the rush to annex Col. Edward H. R. Green, son of Mrs. Hetty Green, in wedlock, has become an international contest, says a New York dispatch.

Of the 6,242 offers of marriage he has received to date 1,321 have come from abroad. Heretofore the European quest of American dollars has been chiefly directed at our feminine sex. It remained for Col. Green to awaken the luxury hunger of our fair foreign cousins. Every European mail brings to him hundreds of fresh proposals. England leads in producing the largest number of alien offers of marriage, while the lovely daughters of France and Germany rank next in boldly presenting their charms to the American Croesus.

The matrimonial "stampede" started from the following remark made a few months ago by Col. Green, who is 40 years old, unmarried, and a jovial six-footer:

"When I find the right girl I will marry her—if she will have me."

A woman, evidently of education, living in Hampstead road, London, writes:

"I take this opportunity of writing to you, being the mamma of two pretty girls of 16 and 17, one fair and one dark, tall, and good figures, and not yet aware of the value of money or marrying for the same, but home loving girls. They have not yet kept the company of gentlemen, but when they do we certainly want them to marry one who can look after them well. They are much admired. My husband and I are of good families. We should be glad of reply or a visit."

The parlor maid employed on the estate of an English baronet near Great Oddington at Northamptonshire writes: "I trust these few lines will find you and your dear mother quite well. I wonder if you could love a poor girl like me, as only wants to be loved and cared for. I have been brought up home with my mother and sisters and I have never gone with a young man in my life. I think it would be much better for you to come and see me. Never mind about money. Don't let's mention it, for you have worked hard for it and I am sure I would take care of it. I know I am young, but that is the best part of it, dear. Good-by; dear. God bless you and your dear mother. I don't know now if you have a father."

A young woman living on Lord street in Hoddeston, Engleterre, England, writes: "Permit me to be so personal as to offer myself in marriage. I am an English lady by birth, 25 years of age, domesticated, and of a happy and loving disposition; exceedingly fond of children, animals and all things natural, but not a lover of society. May I be permitted to hope for your full consideration?"

A unique proposal comes from a young woman living on Northumberland terrace, in Tynemouth, Northumberland:

"Do you think you could love my sister? She has got a great big loving heart. We are orphans and let apartments. So I thought of suggesting for you to come over to England to my home and take rooms for a time and see how you like sister and I. But come as a poor man. If you don't fall in love with one of us, no harm will be done. There are lots of fine places of interest I think you will enjoy visiting, and we will give you a good, hearty welcome."

The following ardent missive from the Rue des Au Pines, Paris, is amusing because of the writer's conception of Col. Green as the hero of a battle-field:

"Your life as a colonel must have been beautiful and thrilling. (He really earned his title by serving as chairman of the Republican state committee in Texas.) But when your forehead is burning is there anybody to put a cooling hand on it? When your heart beats too fast after the scenes of battle is there anybody to show you a pure affection, always the same, to advise and love you at all hours and every minute? Ah, sir! If you are in need of that faithful and to be companion, marry me. My mother will do everything I want. No objection from this side. I am young and it is said I am not ugly."

A woman who describes herself vaguely writes from Seaview, Polunair, Par. in Cornwall:

"First I must ask you to forgive me for writing to you, seeing you are a gentleman and I am only a stevedore's daughter. My age is 25, and I feel sure I could make you happy the rest of your life. I am tall."

A letter in German from a young girl living in Mannheim says:

"Worthy Mr. Green: Even to Germany your call to the women has reached, and therefore even I venture to offer you my heart and my hand. I am 19 years of age, have enjoyed a good education and am musical. Concerning exterior appearances I am more pleasant than beautiful. My reputation is without blemish or reproach, and you can easily learn all about me. Devotedly."

The missive written from Tolbein place, Sloane square, in London, was evidently penned by a woman with a sense of humor: "Doubtless my letter will shortly find its way into your waste paper basket. I am studying hard to play the coronet. If ever you come to London I hope you will favor me with a call, when my mother and I will do our best to entertain you."

The writer of the following letter, sent from Highgate terrace, in Birmingham, appears to have drawn some conclusions with respect to Col. Green. "As I understand you are about to settle down in life, I may say that I am thinking of doing the same if I can find with a suitable partner. I am 27 years of age."

HAIR VS. BRAINS

We often hear the remark that you can't have hair and brains; but is this true?

It is estimated that in Canada and the United States, one million men are bald at thirty-five years of age and we venture to suggest that this is not caused by early plety, or by any excess of gray matter in the brain as many bald headed men liked to believe.

Baldness is caused by dandruff germs which dig down deep into the roots of the hair, destroy its vitality and cause it to fall out.

Parisian Sage, the dandruff cure and hair grower is a pleasant, refreshing tonic that penetrates into the roots of the hair, kills the dandruff germs and gives nourishment to the hair. So certain is D. E. Campbell that it will abolish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp that he will return your money if it does not.

THE STRETCH OF EMPIRE.

New Zealand Facing Its Own Problems of Civilization.

In Great Britain it is customary to class Australia and New Zealand together as Australasia, but those who have lived in both lands know that the two new offshoots of the Anglo-Saxon stock, the Australians and the New Zealanders, are developing on different lines. The thousand miles of ocean which separate New Zealand from Australia are too wide a gulf for laws to bridge. The heat of the sun on the rock-bound coast of New Zealand is a call to the pride and self-reliance of its people. The New Zealand statesmen and the New Zealand people are acutely aware of this. They have declined to take part in the formation of the Australian Federation and to throw their lot with the new Commonwealth. The problems that Australia has to face are different from those which lie in front of New Zealand, and each Dominion will best attain its development as a nation by a policy which leaves both free and unites them in the spirit of empire.

The real New Zealand of to-day is not so well known as it should be. It is possessed of the finest scenery on the earth, for in the narrow compass of its 104,750 square miles—about six-sevenths of the area of the United Kingdom—the scenery of six of the most picturesque countries in the world is reproduced; the sounds and flocks of Norway; the Alps of Switzerland; the thermal springs and volcanoes of Japan; the lochs and lakes of Scotland; the abrupt chasms, dizzy depths, and wonderful waterfalls of California; and the sensuous charm of coloring and sunny stillness of Italy. But New Zealand has had to pay the penalty of beauty in the heroics of guide-books whose writers have failed to see that their lavish use of superlatives has unwittingly conveyed the impression abroad that New Zealand is chiefly a tourist resort where visitors are shown hot springs by stately-tattooed Maoris in feather hats. New Zealand with comparative few birds and no animals of its own, has so readily adopted the imported "game" animals and birds and fishes in its hospitable woods and waters as to circulate more guide-book impressions that New Zealand is remarkable as a game hunting wonderland. The real wonder of New Zealand today is its people. New Zealand is growing up more like her mother than any of the other daughters of the empire, but, although there is some similarity in temperament between the Britisher of the South, and the Britisher born at the colder homestead of the race, the New Zealander is facing the problems of civilization in his island home in his own way. —Empire Magazine.

FORGERY IS CHARGED.

Winnipeg, Oct. 2.—Philip Fitzbuck, formerly of Winnipeg, under arrest at Vancouver charged with forgery, will be brought back for trial. He is charged with having forged the name of William Cuthbert to two checks for $525 and $599 last April. Fitzbuck was in the employ of the Bank of Montreal in Winnipeg, and during the spring was transferred to the branch at New Westminster, B. C. After being there for a short time he left the bank, and later it was reported he was taken in by the Vancouver police.

In the interval the forgeries were being investigated and as there was sufficient evidence to connect Fitzbuck with them the matter was turned over to his bondsmen, the Guarantee Company, and they secured a warrant.

"SAVIOR OF HIS COUNTRY."

To the Editor:—In a recent issue of the Colonist we were presented with the photographs of Messrs. Borden, McBride and Barnard. The first is introduced as the "man who saved his country." Nominally, who would take the time for a few minutes to study the physiognomy of Mr. Borden would not require to be familiar with his weak and vacillating record as leader of the opposition, to say nothing of his "right about face" on the navy and reciprocity questions, to be convinced that it would never be by Mr. Borden's strength of character, the power of his personality, or the genius of his intellect, that he would ever succeed in saving his country or anything else. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association and other powerful interests forced him from the position he at first assumed on the proposed reciprocity agreement, and as he could not argue against it on economic grounds, he resorted to what has been properly designated "the last trick of the political gambler"—the patriotic cry—the Old Flag had to be waved. Up and down through the country he went with his cry, "Save us from the United States, reciprocity means annexation," and upon a wave of gush and patriotic hysteria created by this appeal to sentimentality and fear, and backed by campaign funds from the "interests" in the United States and the tariff reformers of Great Britain, he was swept into power. And now we have the Conservative press telling us that "Mr. Borden built better than he knew" when he decided to appeal to the patriotic feelings of the people. Yes, he gambled and won, but in order to do the gambling he hesitated not to lay unholy hands on the flag we "all love so well and put it to ignoble use. Just as the hypocrite uses religion to further his own selfish ends, so has Mr. Borden used the sacred sentiment of patriotism to gratify his lust for power and office. It is lamentable to think of a great country like ours as represented in England or elsewhere by this man of mediocre attainments; a man who even as leader of a political party was unacceptable to a large percentage of its members, and who at very best is merely a politician without the shadow of a statesmanlike quality about him. May the Lord indeed help the country that in any grave crises would have to depend on Mr. Borden. However, it will not be long before the flag of hysteria and its effects will have subsided, and the people will awaken to the fact that they have been misled, that their most sacred feelings have been played upon, and at the first opportunity they may be depended on to return him to that obscurity which nature has so unmistakably fitted him to enjoy.

Mr. Barnard, the member-elect for Victoria, is presented as the man who defeated Hon. W. Templeman in "a clean and honorable fight." These words are no doubt meant to emphasize the fact that in this contest they succeeded in eliminating forged telegrams, and on this fact let us heartily congratulate them; but they have a long way to go yet before they will ever grasp what it means to conduct a contest honorably. Why, the very air of a Conservative meeting thirty minutes from the start became foul with the lying statements and malicious misrepresentations of facts and figures that were injected into it; while the atmosphere in the editorial sanctum of the Colonist and its slanderous and sycophantic echo, the Week, was positively dangerous to public health.

No, Mr. Barnard, nor the prominent members of his party, cannot be congratulated on having waged a clean and honorable fight; nor can Mr. Barnard be congratulated on having uttered a single weighty or reasonable argument on the economics of reciprocity. He simply waved the flag. The opening words of his speech at the Conservative picnic give the key-note of his subsequent addresses. After referring to the presence of the provincial Premier and assuring his audience that he would not detain them for very long, he commenced: "Now as to annexation, I beg pardon, I mean reciprocity," and so on in similar weighty and brainy sentences, packed with close reasoning and sound logic, did our worthy member seek to baffle and beloud the issue before the people.

Sir, in conclusion, permit me for a moment to express my unflinching faith and confidence in a great statesman who has been at the head of Canada's affairs for the past fifty years; who out of a colony created a nation, whose record is without a blemish, whose aim was ever the welfare of the masses, and who, in my opinion, stands in the foremost rank of the most distinguished statesmen our revered and beloved chief, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who in his temporary defeat is enshrined more warmly in the hearts of his followers than ever before.

P.S.—Of course it will be quite in order when the new parliament meets for some member of the opposition to move a resolution something like this: "Whereas, in the recent general election the Liberal government submitted the question of reciprocity with the United States to the people; and whereas, distinguished Conservative statesmen in the past believed firmly in the principle of reciprocity, this fact rendering it impossible for the present Conservative leaders to urge any sound business reason against the proposed agreement, thus driving him in desperation to appeal to the passions, prejudices and fears of the people by inflammatory speeches about the danger to the "Old Flag," and praying them for God's sake to save the country; and whereas, the people, giving him the benefit of the doubt, responded and placed him in a position to reject the proposed agreement, the verdict being hailed by Conservatives all over the country as an enthusiastic outburst of patriotic sentiment. Therefore, be it resolved, that in the opinion of this House the present is an opportune moment to crystallize into practical form the unbounded love for King and Country so ostentatiously proclaimed by the distinguished patriot who now leads the House and his conference; and that this can best be done by increasing the British preference to 50 per cent., as it will afford the present government the opportunity of not only being consistent but also of removing the stigma of having fought the Liberals at every step to prevent their giving any rebate or preference to our fellow countrymen, the manufacturers of Great Britain.

An English Chemist Has Discovered How to Grow Hair

In England the ladies have entirely abandoned wearing hats, which is due entirely to this new discovery. It has been proven that Henna leaves contain the ingredients that will positively grow hair. That they contain this long-looked-for article is proven every day.

The Americans are now placing on the market a preparation containing the extract from Henna leaves, which is having a phenomenal sale.

This preparation is called SALVIA. It is being sold with a guarantee to cure Dandruff and to grow hair in abundance. Being daintily perfumed, SALVIA makes a most pleasant hair dressing. Campbell, your druggist, is the first to import this preparation into Victoria and a large, generous bottle can be purchased for 50c.

BEAVERS CUT OFF POWER

North Bay, Ont. Oct. 2.—North Bay was in darkness on Thursday, no electric current being available for illumination. The power for the local plant is generated on the South River, 29 miles away in the Nipissing river country and low water is given as the reason for the failure of the power, caused by beaver dams in the Algonquin park. It is claimed that the beaver are holding back water which should supply the power company, with the result that not enough water is available to supply the demands. Low water is general at this season, and the busy beavers with their work have made a bad situation worse. As the law forbids interference with the beavers the company is helpless and is applying to the Ontario government for special permission to destroy the beaver dams and allow the water to reach the power plant.

BOSCOWITZ VESSELS SOUGHT BY CONCERN

Union Steamship Company Reported to Have Purchased Interests of Local Company

Reports have been current for the past few days to the effect that the Boscowitz Steamship Company has been purchased by the Union Steamship company of Vancouver. This morning John Barnsley, manager of the local company, stated that there was no ground for the reports, but admitted that negotiations were now being made for the purchasing of the Boscowitz interests, by a concern, the name of which he would not divulge.

To-day the following official statement was received from the Union Steamship Company of Vancouver: "J. H. Weisford, the Liverpool shipping agent, who recently acquired a controlling interest in the Union Steamship Company, has apparently realized the possibilities of this coast, for he has acquired a considerable interest in the Boscowitz Steamship Co., Ltd. This company operates the Veranda and the Vada, and its business will be carried on as hitherto, but will be developed as opportunities present. The Union Steamship Company will operate the steamers, but John Barnsley, who has been so long identified with the Boscowitz company, will remain with the concern, and also become Victoria agent for the Union Steamship Company. The new steamship company, which has just completed trials at Belfast, and is about to leave for Vancouver, will probably join the Venture on the cannery routes."

"A meeting of the board of directors of the Union Steamship Company was held recently, and Mr. Weisford was elected president; F. Carter-Cotton, chairman of the board of directors, and Messrs. E. H. Beasley and J. H. Wrigley joint managers. G. F. Legg resigned as managing director."

SPEDDY TRIALS FIXED.

Before Judge Lampman on Saturday afternoon Tommy Haggart, charged with trial on three charges of gross indecency, elected to take speedy trial before a county court judge. The date of trial was set for October 11.

The man Alfred sent from the police court on a charge of having indecent pictures in his possession, also elected for speedy trial, and Friday next was set as the date on which a trial day will be named.

The mass meeting at the Victoria theatre on Sunday afternoon to conclude the successful opening of the Y. M. C. A. buildings in this city proved a great success. The principal speaker was the chairman of the building fund committee, C. C. Michener, who spoke on the demand for strong men. The Fifth Regiment band rendered selections, and the pleasure of the gathering was enhanced by the attendance of the male quartette of St. Andrew's church. J. G. Brown also assisted in the musical programme.

VISITING BANKERS ON INSPECTION TRIP

Members of Parisian Financial Institution See Lumber and Mineral on Island

Two prominent European financial men, partners in the well-known banking house of Lazard Freres, Paris, are visiting in the city, having arrived on the Princess Adelaide from Vancouver yesterday afternoon.

They are Andre Lazard, of Paris, and R. M. Kindersley, of London, the latter having charge of the London office. They travelled by private car, and were met at Vancouver by A. D. McRae, who is acting as their host on the present trip, and who arrived by a later boat yesterday to join them in inspecting the collieries of the Canadian Collieries, Limited, and the Canadian Western Lumber Company's camps on Vancouver Island.

Mr. Kindersley explained to a Times representative that while it was true they were on a visit of inspection to the coal and timber interests in which officials of the Canadian Northern railway were predominant, the question of investment was one for further consideration. They were simply visiting for the purpose of securing information about the conditions locally. Both of them had been greatly impressed with what they had seen, and were looking forward to this visit to Vancouver Island with keen anticipation.

This banking house, however, has large interests already in British Columbia, so that there is little doubt more investments will be made before Messrs. Lazard and Kindersley return east. They came over the C. N. R. from Winnipeg to Edmonton, and thence over the C. P. R. tracks.

Several of the local bank managers met and were introduced to the visitors at the Empress hotel, where they are making their headquarters.

KEEPING FAMILY ON TWELVE DOLLAR WAGE

Story of Real Estate Operations Told to Judge Lampman by Judgment Debtor

Earning $12 per week and having a wife and three children, the eldest being four years of age, to support, Robert Police, a foreigner, who follows the occupation of a boot black, appeared as a judgment debtor before Judge Lampman this morning to show cause why an order for payment should not be made against him for a small sum on which an unsatisfied judgment has been obtained by the creditor.

Police told the court a story of real estate dealings followed by him in connection with two lots and a house he had owned opposite the Old Men's Home at the Willows, and as a result the case was adjourned until October 13, and the defendant advised to see his lawyer and ascertain if he has any equity remaining in the real estate he owned.

The bootblack said he bought the lots and paid a deposit, after which he built a house and fenced it in with lumber bought from the Taylor Mill company. He undertook a contract in Vancouver and lost money and was unable to make his real estate payments. Under an agreement he had made with the Taylor Mill company the property was sold by the company to one Tom Gordon, who is now living in the house, for $2,000. The property last fall, said witness, was worth $3,500 and is now $4,000 now. He had lost everything by the speculation and is now unable to pay the debt incurred.

Judge Lampman thought the debtor might have some equity in the property and handed him over to Mr. Milligan who appeared for him for legal advice.

Two debtors who failed to appear on judgment summonses had commitment orders made against them.

BOURASSA BEGINS TO GIVE BORDEN TROUBLE

Calls on Him to Hold an Inquiry Into Trunk Railway Construction

Montreal, Oct. 2.—Mr. Bourassa and his group are calling loudly for an investigation into the construction of the trans-continental.

"It must be complete," says Le Devoir. "It is absolutely necessary and this investigation is the most important which at the present time imposes itself on the consideration of the new government. If the Laurier government has declined during these five years to make this investigation, the Borden administration must get to work at the start, the veil must be raised, for behind this veil the contractors have built a road with the public money."

"No one has the right to oppose this investigation, which must be carried on with justice and precaution, yet investigation there must be, as contractors as well as the present and future members of the commission are equally interested. If the government does not wish to be held equally responsible with the old regime, let there be an inquiry."

MADERO WILL BE THE MEXICAN PRESIDENT

Has Received Practically a Unanimous Vote—Vice-Presidency is Undecided

Mexico City, Mex., Oct. 2.—The returns from yesterday's election coming in slowly, indicate that General Madero has received a practically unanimous vote for the presidency. Few of General Reyes' partisans voted because of their leaders withdrawal and Madero was the only remaining candidate who had been regularly nominated. No vice-presidential candidate seemingly has a sweeping majority. From claims advanced by the Progressives and the Catholic party, it appears that the race between Suarez and President De la Barra was close, but the Vasquezites were unwilling to concede the defeat of Dr. Vasquez Gomez, claiming large gains in Guadalupe, Zacatecas, Guanajuato, Puebla and Aguascalientes.

The belief is strengthened that no candidate will be able to show a clean majority, though the election into congress. The Madero and Pinar Suarez ticket made a sweeping victory in the capital, according to the best estimates obtainable.

The Catholic party asserts that De la Barra has a good chance to win when the electors ballot on October 15.

THE MEXICAN ELECTIONS.

Conflicting Ambitions Brought Into Contrast in Campaign.

It is no imaginative dreamer or sanguinary spirit of revolution who says that Mexico's political drama, leading up to the denouement of a national election here this evening, is full of action, plots, counterplots, and climaxes, but a succession of calm, patient observant investigators of the strange mass of conflicting and bewildering ambitions, purposes, and expectations that are floating on the surface of politics. The revolutionary campaign which ended with the overthrow of Porfirio Diaz had a corollary of sporadic bloodshed and there are rumors of prospective assassinations which seem to warrant the belief that the nation is passing through a dangerous crisis.

General Francisco I. Madero, the leader of the revolution and now a candidate for the presidency of the republic on the constitutional, progressive party ticket, has openly charged General Reyes, another candidate for the presidency, with secretly fomenting strikes and plots and with conniving with army leaders to promote his own interests. General Reyes denies the charge and denies Madero to produce any evidence in support of his allegations. The attack on Reyes by a mob in Mexico City a fortnight ago, suggests the violence of the opposition of the Maderistas towards him.

The task of De la Barra, the interim president, who has held the balance of power between the conflicting parties since the revolution and will remain at the head of affairs until after the elections, has been desperate in the extreme. Many of the revolutionists are still armed and a number of the state and local governments are in a condition of helpless disorganization, with only the untoward semblance of authority. There is ample proof that the people have not adapted themselves to the larger liberties that came in the wake of the revolution.

Through all the upheavals Madero has remained a staunch supporter of President De la Barra. In his loyalty he has alienated many of the leaders who fought by his side and helped him to victory. To establish the administration on any sort of working basis, the president was obliged to oust from his cabinet Emilio Vasquez Gomez, minister of government. Gomez was a conspicuous figure in the revolution, although the value of his services at that time has since been depreciated by Madero.

The dismissal of Gomez stirred up a rumour that ended with the wiping out of former party alignments in the campaign and with the bringing of a political schism that no act of conciliation has been able to mend. The resultant clash of factional interests together with the inevitable difficulties of reconstruction, has put the statesmanship and diplomacy of President De la Barra to a fearful test. Even with the faithful counsel of Madero he has found the obstacles to peace and quiet insurmountable, but both of these men have a sturdy faith that all the wrinkles eventually will be smoothed out.

In order to understand the Gomez situation, it is necessary to remember that when Madero was nominated for the presidency in the spring Dr. Gomez was selected as running mate with the vice-presidency in prospect. Dr. Gomez is minister of public instruction in the De la Barra cabinet and an able man of conservative tendencies.

At that time General Madero and General Reyes had established an entente cordiale. Reyes pledged himself to support the Madero programme both in and out of the immediate political campaign. It was expected General Reyes, in case of Madero's election, would be appointed minister of war. He is a military genius and previous to the revolution had a strong following in the Mexican army. His selection for a cabinet position, it was thought, would at once insure the services of an able man and be a means to the end of conciliating opposing factions.

Troubles came thick and fast and following the declaration of General Reyes' candidacy for the office of president came the ousting of Gomez from the cabinet by De la Barra. He had become a thorn in the president's side by reason of his leniency in dealing with the revolutionists still under arms.

A new party was formed of which Dr. Gomez was the leader, and this was followed by the organization of a cabinet Madero party, which held a rousing convention in the last week of August. It nominated Jose Pino Suarez—who had been forced to flee the country for fomenting disaffection to Diaz—for the vice-presidency, and promulgated a liberal platform to capture as many supporters for Madero as possible.

The Catholic party already had held a convention and had endorsed the candidacy of Madero with De la Barra as the choice for vice-president. The party took this action, although it had been well advised beforehand that Madero, if elected, would adhere to the "laws of the reform" adopted during the administration of Benito Juarez forty years ago, by which separation of church and state was accomplished and religious questions were subordinated to political ones.

The liberal radical party, meeting in August, endorsed De la Barra for the presidency and the revolutionist party followed suit. The president has thrice declined the honor offered him and says he must not be considered a candidate. Such is the somewhat confusing medley of conflicting ambitions which will go before the people at the coming election.

MURDER IN PRISON.

Fight Between Young Criminals Ends in Death of One.

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 2.—For the second time in less than two weeks a fight between prisoners in Folsom state penitentiary ended in a death. Saturday, Homer Stolcup, aged 21, sent from Alameda county two years ago on a charge of attempted murder and jail breaking, died at noon today from the effects of a blow on the head dealt on Thursday night by Wesley Frazier, aged 25, who had been in the prison only two months. Frazier was sentenced from Los Angeles his being the first conviction under the law enacted by the last legislature against men living on the earnings of immoral women. "The men fought in their cell over a triviality."

"Don't get fresh with me, you cheap one, or I'll do to you what I did to that"

deputy sheriff in Alameda county," cried Stolcup, and he sprang at Frazier with a mop handle. Frazier caught a fistful from the bunk and struck Stolcup over the head. This ended the fight. The injured man sat down on his bunk, holding his head between his hands. He refused to get up to-day, and was taken to the hospital, where he died. An inquest showed that his skull had been fractured, and that he died from hemorrhage of the brain. Frazier, the coroner's jury found, acted in self defence.

LOST BET AND SUICIDE.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 2.—The body of the man found in the bay has been identified as that of Fred Hallam, of London, Ont. Hallam, it appears had come to Toronto Saturday from Ottawa. He had lost a bet of $125 that the government would be returned, and it is thought that being in straitened circumstances he committed suicide in a fit of despondency. Hallam was 50 years old and a bookkeeper.

THE GREEN ROOM

One who goes to see "Jumping Jupiter," with visions of music like unto that in "Madame Sherry," because Karl Hoschna's name is associated with it is certain to be disappointed. In the true sense there is no music in "Jumping Jupiter," for as in the cast which presented it here on Thursday evening there were practically no singing voices.

About the only interest to the intelligent playgoer in this piece is the opportunity to observe what they have at times to endure under the title of a musical play. "Jumping Jupiter," purports to be an adaptation of an almost forgotten farce by Sydney Rosenfeld, "The Purple Lady," and what it is about it is not worth the trouble to find out. It is light enough in all conscience, and there is sufficient elpway in it to make one laugh and wonder after why.

Richard Carl is himself as ever and just as lovable. We have seen him very much better suited than in his present vehicle, however. The real hit of the evening was Will Philbrick, a quietly jolly comedian who must weigh over 200 pounds. He carries a constant "jag" but does it in a manner which never offends. He captured the good will of the audience completely by his singing of a couple of coon songs—"The Possum Ray" and "The Angeworm Wiggle"—and by a lightness on his feet which was marvellous.

It is safe to assume that a considerable portion of the audience was drawn by a desire to see Edna Wallace Hopper. She is as petite as of old, and as captivating, though she has not much to do in "Jumping Jupiter" beyond wearing gowns which are revelations in how much can be revealed by a modern creation of the modiste. There is some very good business in "I like to have a flock of men around me" but there is nothing in particular about the air.

The feature of the coming engagements at the Victoria Theatre is undoubtedly Gertrude Hoffmann's "Salon des Ballets Russes." Miss Hoffmann's enterprise in bringing such a large company of the foremost Russian choreographic artists on tour is met with the patronage of such an attraction deserves, and the advance inquiry for seats here proves that Victorians also will demonstrate their appreciation to the satisfaction of the box-office.

The musical season opens on Friday, October 13, with the appearance here, under the auspices of the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club, of those two distinguished artists, Miss Emma Eames and Emilio de Gorgozza.

"The Sweetest Girl in Paris." Miss Trixie Friganza, who will appear at the Victoria theatre to-night in the greatest of all La Salle opera house successes, "The Sweetest Girl in Paris," has the honor of heading not only one of the most popular productions on the road, but one of the very largest as well. She is surrounded by more than eight fun-makers, including all the principals who originated their respective roles at the La Salle, but the celebrated La Salle chorus also, this being the first time that this bevy of stunning girls have ever been persuaded to appear outside of Chicago.

Trixie Friganza has achieved an enviable reputation for appearing only in big successes, and achieving for herself only the most conspicuous hits. Three years ago she co-starred with Eddie Foy in "The Orchard"; then George Cohan starred her at the head of his "The American Idea," and now Miss Friganza is gaining new laurels under the direction of Harry Askin in "The Sweetest Girl in Paris."

Hosts of theatregoers throughout the country who remember Trixie Friganza's splendid work in "The American Idea" will be anxious to greet her in her latest and greatest hit, "The Sweetest Girl in Paris," which comes to the Victoria theatre direct from a run of more than three hundred performances at the famous La Salle opera house, Chicago. She is surrounded by the same clever and meritorious host of more than eighty fun-makers who supported her during the engagement in the Windy City, even the famous and original La Salle beauty chorus being persuaded to appear on tour for the first time. "The Sweetest Girl in Paris" contains no less than sixteen musical numbers, all from the pen of the ever popular Joe Howard, and three of them are celebrated as "Friganza-hits."

"The Travelling Salesman," the James Forbes comedy drama, will be the attraction at the Victoria theatre on Tuesday, October 3.

The play depicts the romance of a knight of the road. It is built on novel lines, and gives an insight into the character of the man who sells goods on the road. The other characters in the comedy will be instantly recognized by anyone who has ever seen a small town. "The Great American Drummer," a comedy study, is rich in humor. The poker game shown in the second act is a real exposition of the popular indoor sport of the travelling man.

Mr. Forbes, as a creator of risible expressions, sprang into prominence by reason of "The Chorus Lady," but he has more than duplicated his first success with "The Travelling Salesman." A special company of actors of proved ability has been engaged to interpret the various characters. The "drummer," Bob Blake, will be played here by Don MacMillan, an actor of much prominence in comedy roles, and the opposite part, Beth Elliott, is in the hands of Dorothy Grey.

Gertrude Hoffmann. The Queen of Sheba, sayeth the ancient chronicler, did travel in a very great train, with many retainers and outriders and beasts of burden laden with much gold and precious stones and incense and myrrh. Her royal cavalcade, continueth the chronicler, was a nine days' wonder among the countries and peoples among whom she travelled in Oriental state and splendor.

Gertrude Hoffmann, a modern queen of the terpsichorean court, sayeth her chronicler, also travels in a very great train of many Pullman coaches, and on the return trip they will be laden with much gold which may be employed in the purpose of purchasing precious stones and incense and myrrh. Her cavalcade, and the lady herself, continueth her chronicler, will without doubt be thrice a nine days' wonder along the line of her proposed itinerary among the cities of America through which she will travel in modern magnificence.

Gertrude Hoffmann's "Salon des Ballets Russes" is in point of numbers, the most gigantic attraction which ever left New York for a road tour. Some conception of the vastness of the enterprise is possible when the fact is given consideration that in September over 150 people, members of the Gertrude Hoffmann company, left New York for an eight months' tour which will cover over 20,000 miles.

"The Gertrude Hoffmann Special," as the private train which carries the company is known, consists of Miss Hoffmann's private car "Sheherazade," three 60-foot baggage cars, five standard sleepers and a specially constructed car for the transportation of Miss Hoffmann's big French touring car and electric runabout. One end of this car is fitted up as a gymnasium for the use of several members of the organization who need an hour or two on the parallel bars daily to keep them in the pink of dancing condition. Miss Hoffmann and her company appear at the Victoria theatre on Thursday, October 5.

"Baby Mine." Wm. A. Brady presents "Baby Mine," Margaret Mayo's play of a thousand laughs, which kept New York in convulsions of laughter for one solid year at Daly's theatre, is now making London laugh as it never laughed before—and comes to the Victoria theatre on Friday, October 6.

Any play or drama in which a mother or husband, or real home happenings is strongly depicted, is always of intense interest to theatre patrons, but when the realisms and situations make genuine comedy with a mother, father and babies as central figures, and the whole is a picture of laughter, there can be but one result—success.

This term applies to the best and biggest comedy play of modern times, "Baby Mine," and which all managers agree is the most genuine theatrical find of years. The authors, Miss Margaret Mayo, got her inspiration for her ideas and lines from a newspaper article, and under the direction of Manager William A. Brady, the play has been whipped into shape, so that a genuine laugh factory is the result.

"Baby Mine" is a play that has been a positive and legitimate success from its first production. The aim of the authors and producer has been to create real fun, merriment and laughter, and have succeeded almost to the limit. There has been nothing so strong, as fascinating and intense comedy during the present age at least. It is a sensational success, as it abounds with situations and fun that produce cyclonic outbursts of laughter. There is unbridled gaiety created all the time, and there is not a dull moment in it.

The methods and acting of the young mother, and the deluded young husband, are close to real happenings; and impress most of an adult audience personally. It is rib-expanding fun and merriment, and the sentiment is so strongly fascinating that many are willing to see "Baby Mine" over and over again.
